प्रस्तावना

श्री योगवासिष्ठ भारत के ही नहीं, पृथ्वीमण्डल के सर्वश्रेष्ठ ग्रन्थों में से एक ग्रन्थ है। बहुत प्राचीन होने पर भी उसका 'दर्शन' आधुनिक भावों से परिपूर्ण है। उसके अध्ययन और अनुसरण करने से मनुष्य का जीवन उदार, क्रियाशील और आनन्दमय हो जाता है। किसी एक ग्रन्थ में इतने अधिक, गहरा, ऊँचे और व्यापक सिद्धान्तों का मिलना कठिन है। ग्रन्थ बहुत बड़ा, संस्कृत भाषा में, और पुराने ढङ्ग से लिखा हुआ होने के कारण आधुनिक जिज्ञासुओं के लिये उपयोगी नहीं है। इसी लिये लेखक ने अंग्रेजी और हिन्दी भाषा में योगवासिष्ठ के सिद्धान्तों को आधुनिक ढङ्ग से प्रतिपादित करने का प्रयत्न किया है। इस विषय पर लेखक के कई ग्रन्थ छप चुके हैं। प्रस्तुत पुस्तिका में लेखक ने श्री योगवासिष्ठ के ३२००० श्लोकों में से १६६ सारभूत और सूत्ररूप श्लोकों का क्रमात्मक संग्रह करके हिन्दी और अंग्रेजी भाषा में अनुवाद किया है। इस संग्रह में यह प्रयत्न किया गया है कि योगवासिष्ठ के प्रायः सभी सिद्धान्त बीजरूप से पाठक के सामने प्रस्तुत हो जायें। आशा है कि इसके पठन से जिज्ञासु लोगों का ध्यान उस महान् ग्रन्थ की ओर जायेगा।

श्री वासिष्ठदर्शनसार

संसार को निःसारता :—

आयु अत्यन्त चपल है, मृत्यु सर्वथा क्रूर है ; युवा अवस्था अत्यन्त ही चञ्चल है ; और बाल्यावस्था अज्ञान में ही नष्ट हो जाती है ॥ १ ॥ सत्य लोग काल से कलङ्कित हो रहे हैं । सब बन्धु-जन संसार की वेड़ियाँ हैं ; जितने भोग हैं वे सब महारोग हैं ; और तृष्णा केवल मृगतृष्णा है ॥ २ ॥ अपनी इन्द्रियाँ ही अपने शत्रु हैं । सत्य भी असत्यता को प्राप्त हो गया है ; आत्मा ही आत्मा का हनन करता है और मन ही मन का दुश्मन हो रहा है ॥ ३ ॥ सारे भाव आने और जाने वाले अर्थात् उत्पन्न और नष्ट होने वाले हैं । विषयों की भावना ही संसार से सबको बाँधती है । न जाने ये सब प्राणी कहाँ ले जाये जा रहे हैं ॥ ४ ॥ सब मनुष्य मोह के वशीभूत हुए, दुःखदायी आशाओं की फाँसी में बँधे हुए, और दोषरूपी झाड़ों में अटके हुए मृगों के समान, जीवन-रूपी जङ्गल में भटक रहे हैं ॥ ५ ॥ ऐसी कौनसी दृष्टि है जो निर्दोष हो ? ऐसी कौनसी दिशा है जिसमें दुःख की अग्नि से प्राणी न जल रहे हों ? ऐसी कौनसी उत्पन्न वस्तु है जो नश्वर न हो ? ऐसा कौनसा कार्य है जिसमें माया (धोखा) न हो ? ॥ ६ ॥

जिज्ञासा :—

इसलिये हे साधो ! आयास-रहित, उपाधि-रहित, भ्रम-रहित, वह कौनसी सत्य स्थिति है जिसमें शोक न हो ? ॥ ७ ॥ कौनसा ऐसा उपाय है, कौनसा ऐसा मार्ग है, कौनसा ऐसा विचार है, कौनसा ऐसा आश्रय है कि जिसके द्वारा यह जीवन-रूपी जङ्गल दुःखदायी न हो ? ॥ ८ ॥ अज्ञानों को ही दुःख होता है :—

यह संसाररूपी प्रवाह अज्ञानों की ही मूर्खता से चल रहा ? है । अज्ञानों को ही घोर दुःख-सुख होते हैं ॥ ९ ॥

ज्ञान द्वारा ही दुःख से मुक्ति होती है :—

जिस प्रकार वर्षा से भीगे हुए बन को अग्नि की ज्वालाएँ नहीं जला सकतीं, उसी प्रकार मानसिक दुःख भी ज्ञानी को, जिसने जो कुछ जानने योग्य है जान लिया है और युक्त दृष्टि प्राप्त कर ली है, वेदना नहीं दे सकते ॥ १० ॥

पुरुषार्थ-महिमा :—

यहाँ पर (संसार में) सब दुःखों का क्षय करने के लिये पुरुषार्थ (मनुष्य के यत्न) के अतिरिक्त दूसरा कोई मार्ग नहीं है ॥ ११ ॥ जो जिस पदार्थ के पाने की इच्छा करता है और उसको प्राप्त करने के लिये कमशः यत्न करता है, वह उसको अवश्य ही प्राप्त कर लेता है, यदि बीचमें प्रयत्न को न छोड़ दे ॥ १२ ॥ यहाँ पर चुपचाप बैठे रहने से कुछ प्राप्त नहीं होता, जो जो जैसा जैसा यत्न करता है वैसा वैसा ही फल पाता है ॥ १३ ॥ जो उद्योग को छोड़ कर भाग्य (तकदीर) के ऊपर भरोसा करते हैं वे अपने ही दुःखमन हैं और धर्म, अर्थ और काम सब को नष्ट कर देते हैं ॥ १४ ॥ दैव (भाग्य) कभी कुछ नहीं करता, यह केवल कल्पना मात्र है कि दैव ही सब कुछ करता है। दैव मूर्ख लोगों की कल्पना है; इस कल्पना के भरोसे रह कर वे नाश को प्राप्त होते हैं ॥ १५ ॥ फल देने वाले पुरुषार्थ द्वारा शुभाशुभ अर्थ प्राप्तिरूप फलसिद्धि का नाम ही दैव है ॥ १६ ॥ पूर्वकृत कर्म (पुरुषार्थ) के अतिरिक्त दैव और कोई वस्तु नहीं है; पूर्वकृत पुरुषार्थ ही का नाम दैव है ॥ १७ ॥ दोनों पुरुषार्थ (पूर्वकृत जिसका नाम दैव है और वर्तमान काल का पुरुषार्थ) दो मेढों के समान एक दूसरे से लड़ते हैं, जो उनमें अधिक बल वाला होता है वही विजय पाता है ॥ १८ ॥

आलस्य की निन्दा :—

यदि जगत् में आलस्यरूपी अनर्थ न होता तो कौन धनी और विद्वान् न होता। आलस्य के कारण ही यह समुद्र पर्यन्त पृथ्वी निर्धन और मूर्ख (मनुष्य के रूप में पशु) लोगों से भरी पड़ी है ॥ १९ ॥

मुमुक्षु के गुण :—

शम, सन्तोष, साधुसङ्ग और विचार ये चार संसारसमुद्र से मनुष्य के पार उतरने के उपाय हैं ॥ २० ॥

अनुभव ही प्रमाण है :—

जैसे समुद्र सब जलों का अन्तिम स्थान है वैसे ही सब प्रमाणों का आधार प्रमाण एक प्रत्यक्ष ही यहाँ पर माना गया है, उसको मुनो ॥२१॥ आत्मा का ज्ञान न अनुमान से होता है और न आप्तवचन (शब्द) से । आत्मा का पूर्णतया और सर्व प्रकार का प्रत्यक्ष सदा स्वानुभूति द्वारा होता है ॥ २२ ॥

सम्बन्ध से अद्वैत सिद्ध है :—

असमान वस्तुओं में कभी सम्बन्ध नहीं हो सकता और सम्बन्ध के बिना एक वस्तु को दूसरी वस्तु का ज्ञान नहीं हो सकता ॥२३॥

दृश्य पदार्थ बोध-रूप ही हैं :—

यदि द्रष्टा और दृश्य चित्स्वरूप में एक न हों तो जिस प्रकार पत्थर गत्ते के मिठास से अनभिज्ञ रहता है, उसी प्रकार द्रष्टा को भी दृश्य का ज्ञान नहीं हो सकता ॥ २४ ॥

संसार के सब पदार्थ कल्पनामय हैं :—

मनन (मन के कार्य) के अतिरिक्त संसार कुछ नहीं है । तीनों जगत् मन के मनन से ही निर्मित हैं । चित्त अपने भीतर इस सारे संसार को संकल्प के रूप में रचता है ॥ २५ ॥

जाग्रत् और स्वप्न का अन्वेष :—

जाग्रत् और स्वप्न में इसके सिवाय कि एक स्थिर अनुभव का नाम है और दूसरा अस्थिर का, और कोई भेद नहीं है । सदा और सर्वत्र दोनों दशाओं का अनुभव समान है ॥ २६ ॥ स्वप्न के समय स्वप्न भी स्थिर रहने के कारण जाग्रत् ही प्रतीत होता है । जाग्रत् भी अस्थिर रूप से जाने जाने पर स्वप्न ही प्रतीत होने लगता है ॥ २७ ॥

प्रत्येक जीव में विश्व का स्वप्न होता है :—

प्रत्येक जीव को पृथक् पृथक् जगद्भ्रम होता है, और जिसको जो अनुभव होता है वह उसके अतिरिक्त और कुछ नहीं जानता ॥ २८ ॥

सृष्टि के आरम्भ में ब्रह्मा ने इस जगत् को रचा :—

यह सबसे प्रथम उत्पन्न हुआ ब्रह्मा (प्रजापति) जैसा जैसा संकल्प करता है वैसी वैसी ही सृष्टि होती चली जाती है ॥ २९ ॥

वाह्यार्थवाद और विज्ञानवाद की एकता :—

जैसा यह विस्तृत जगत् विराट् आत्मा (ब्रह्मा) में है वैसा ही अणुमात्र में भी है ॥ ३० ॥ सबसे पहिला स्पन्दन पदार्थों का विम्ब है और अभी तक उसी प्रकार मौजूद है । हमारा अपना जगत् इसी का प्रतिबिम्ब है ॥ ३१ ॥ महाचिति के आभास होने के कारण, महा नियति द्वारा नियंत्रित होने के कारण, एक दूसरे में प्रतिबिम्बित होने से सब प्राणी एक दूसरे को देखते हैं ॥ ३२ ॥

संकल्पित पदार्थों में भी संकल्प करने की शक्ति होती है :—

प्रत्येक दृश्य-पदार्थ स्वयं इस प्रकार जीव हो जाता है जैसे गर्मा की मौसम में प्राणियों के शरीर के मँल और पसीने से उत्पन्न हुई वस्तुएँ स्वयं प्राणी बन जाती हैं ॥ ३३ ॥

सृष्टि के भीतर अनन्त सृष्टियों की परम्परा :—

प्रत्येक सृष्टि के भीतर नाना प्रकार की अनेक दूसरी सृष्टियाँ हैं ; उनके भीतर और दूसरी ; उनके भीतर और अनेक ; इस प्रकार यह सिलसिला केले के तने की भाँति चलता ही रहता है ॥ ३४ ॥

परस्पर अद्रष्ट अनन्त सृष्टियाँ :—

प्रत्येक जीव के भीतर बहुत सी नाना प्रकार की एक दूसरी के प्रति अज्ञात सृष्टियाँ उदय हो रही हैं ॥ ३५ ॥

सब कुछ सदा सब जगह है :—

सब कुछ सभी स्थान पर सदा ही सब रूप वाले (ब्रह्म) में है । परब्रह्म में सब पदार्थ सर्व रूप से सर्वदा सब जगह हैं ॥ ३६ ॥

जगत् अनन्त हैं :—

इस ब्रह्मरूपी आकाश में अनन्त प्रकार के अनन्त जगत् इस प्रकार उत्पन्न और नष्ट होते रहते हैं जैसे कि समुद्र में लहरें ॥ ३७ ॥

सृष्टि और प्रलय का वार २ होना :—

जैसे चैत्र के महीने में नये अङ्कुर उत्पन्न होते हैं और ग्रीष्म ऋतु में सब रस सूख जाते हैं उसी प्रकार जीवगण उत्पन्न होते हैं और जहाँ से उत्पन्न हुए थे उसी में लय को प्राप्त हो जाते हैं ॥ ३८ ॥

तीन आकाश :—

आकाश, चित्ताकाश और चिदाकाश—ये तीन आकाश (सर्व व्यापक पदार्थ) हैं । इनमें चिदाकाश सबसे सूक्ष्म है ॥ ३९ ॥

मन का रूप :—

अनन्त, सर्वशक्तियुक्त, महान् आत्मा के सङ्कल्प शक्ति द्वारा रचे हुए रूप का नाम मन है ॥ ४० ॥

मन और ब्रह्म में भेद :—

चेत्य (दृश्य) से रहित चित् (आत्मा) सनातन ब्रह्म है । वही चित् (आत्मा) चेत्य (दृश्य) युक्त होने पर मन कहलाता है ॥ ४१ ॥

मन के रूप और नाम :—

जैसे एक ही नट (नाटक का पात्र) अनेक रूप धारण कर लेता है वैसे ही भिन्न २ कामों को करते समय मन भी अनेक नाम और रूपों को धारणकर लेता है ॥ ४२ ॥ नाना प्रकार की क्रियायें करते समय मन के अनेक नाम होते हैं—कभी यह जीव कहलाता है, कभी वासना और कभी कर्म इत्यादि ॥ ४३ ॥

जीवों का बन्धन अपने ही संकल्प से है :—

अपनी वासनाओं के द्वारा प्राप्त दशा से वशीभूत होने के कारण जीव नाना प्रकार के बन्धनों में बँधे हुए हैं ॥ ४४ ॥

जीव असंख्य हैं :—

इस प्रकार संसार की भावना से युक्त, चित्ति के रूपान्तर जीव, कल्पित आकार वाले ब्रह्मा से, लाखों और करोड़ों की संख्या में उत्पन्न हुए ॥ ४५ ॥ पहिले भी ये जीव असंख्य तादाद में पैदा हुए, और अब भी अनगिनित उत्पन्न होते हैं । झरने से झरते हुए जल के कणों की तरह आगे भी असंख्य जीव पैदा होंगे ॥ ४६ ॥

मन का महत्व :—

जीव सङ्कल्परूप है । यह हृदय में जो कुछ संकल्प करता है वह शीघ्र ही उसी रूप से बाहर (बाह्य जागत्) में प्रकट होता है ॥ ४७ ॥ जीव आप ही अपने सभी अभीष्टों को शीघ्र अपनी शक्ति से सम्पादित कर लेता है । प्रत्येक जीव में चित्-शक्ति (आत्मा की अनन्त और अपार शक्ति) वर्तमान है ॥ ४८ ॥ जो जो जिस जिस वस्तु की जब जब जैसी जैसी कल्पना करता है सो सो उस उस वस्तु का उस उस समय उसी प्रकार अनुभव करता है ॥ ४९ ॥ निर्मल तथा सात्विक मन जिस वस्तु में जैसी भावना करता है, वह वस्तु शीघ्र ही उसी रूप में परिणत हो जाती है, जैसे कि जल आवर्त रूप में ॥ ५० ॥ यज्ञ नाम वाले अपने ही पुरुषार्थ से, जिसका नाम दृढ़ अभ्यास है, मनुष्य को संसार में कामयाबी होती है; किसी दूसरे साधन से नहीं ॥ ५१ ॥ मन की मूर्खता से दुःख पहाड़ की चोटी की नाई बढ़ते हैं और मन के वश में होते ही दुःखों का इस प्रकार नाश हो जाता है जैसे कि सूर्य के उदय होने पर पाले का ॥ ५२ ॥ जैसे रेशम का कीड़ा अपने रहने के लिये अपने आपही अपना कोश तैयार कर लेता है वैसे ही मन ने भी यह शरीर अपनी वासनाओं की पूर्ति करने के लिये बनाया है ॥ ५३ ॥ अपने

भीतर ही यदि शान्ति प्राप्त हो गई, तो सारा संसार शान्त दिखाई पड़ने लगता है। जो अपने भीतर ही तृष्णा की आग से जल रहा हो उससे लिये सारे संसार में आग सी लगी रहती है ॥ ५४ ॥ मन के पूर्ण होने पर सारा संसार अमृत से भरपूर दिखाई पड़ता है, जैसे कि जूता पहने हुए पुरुष के लिये समस्त पृथ्वी चमड़े से ढकी हुई सी प्रतीत होती है ॥ ५५ ॥ हे राघव ! इस भ्रम पैदा करने वाले, घूमने वाले, संसाररूपी मायाचक्र की नाभि चित्त है ॥ ५६ ॥ इस नाभि को बुद्धि और पुरुषार्थ द्वारा जोर से पकड़ कर रोक लेने से मायाचक्र की गति रुक जाती है ॥ ५७ ॥

मैं कौन हूँ ? :—

फूलों में मैं खुशबू हूँ, मैं फूल पत्तियों का सौन्दर्य हूँ। सुन्दर वस्तुओं का रूप कला में हूँ; और सब रूपों में मैं अनुभव हूँ ॥ ५८ ॥ जो यह समझता है कि “मैं चित्त नहीं हूँ, मैं वह आत्मा हूँ जिसमें जगत् का सारा वस्तुएँ इस प्रकार पिरोई हुई हैं जैसे कि माला के तागे में उसके मोती,” वही ठीक समझता है ॥ ५९ ॥ जो यह समझता है कि “जैसे तरङ्ग समुद्र का एक क्षुद्र अङ्ग है वैसे ही तीनों लोकों में जो कुछ है वह मेरा ही अङ्ग है” वही ठीक समझता है ॥ ६० ॥

मैं :—

ऐसा कहना कि मरा हुआ प्राणी नष्ट हो गया है बिल्कुल झूठ है : वह तो मरने पर दूसरे देश और काल में दूसरी सृष्टि का अनुभव करने लगता है ॥ ६१ ॥ मिथ्या मौत की मूर्छा का कुछ देर तक अनुभव करके, पूर्व अवस्था को भूल कर, जीव दूसरी अवस्था का अनुभव करने लगता है ॥ ६२ ॥ जहाँ पर यह प्राणी मरता है उसी स्थान पर शीघ्र ही इसी प्रकार से स्थित दूसरे जगत् का अनुभव करता है ॥ ६३ ॥ जैसे पक्षी एक वृक्ष से उड़कर दूसरे वृक्ष पर चले जाते हैं उसी प्रकार सैकड़ों आशारूपी फाँसों में जकड़े हुए, वासनाओं को हृदय में धारण किये हुए, जीव एक शरीर से दूसरे शरीर में जाते हैं ॥ ६४ ॥ अज्ञानी

जीव जब तक अपने शुद्ध आत्मा का दर्शन नहीं कर लेते तब तक जल में भँवरों के समान भ्रमण करते रहते हैं ॥ ६५ ॥ चेतन पुरुष न कहीं मरता है और न उत्पन्न होता है । केवल स्वप्न-भ्रम की तरह इस जगत् के भ्रम का अनुभव करता है ॥ ६६ ॥ मनुष्यों की आयु के अधिक और कम होने में देश, काल, क्रिया और द्रव्यों की तथा उनके किये हुए कर्मों की शुद्धि और अशुद्धि ही कारण होते हैं ॥ ६७ ॥

ब्रह्मा :—

सृष्टि के आदि में स्वप्नपुरुष की नाई जो आदि प्रजापति (प्रथम सृष्टिकर्ता ब्रह्मा) उत्पन्न हुआ था वह अब भी स्थित है ॥ ६८ ॥ मन ब्रह्मा का स्वरूप है और ब्रह्मा मन का स्वरूप है । मन का रूप धारण करके ही ब्रह्मा सृष्टि उत्पन्न करता है ॥ ६९ ॥ देश, काल आदि से अपरिमित आत्मतत्त्व अपना ही शक्ति से लीला द्वारा देश और काल से परिमित रूप को धारण कर लेता है ॥ ७० ॥ निज स्वभाव से प्रेरित होकर वह स्वयं ही यह भावना करता है कि मैं दूसरा हूँ । और इस भावना के कारण वह स्वयं कल्पित अन्यता को प्राप्त होता है ॥ ७१ ॥ इस स्वयंभू (ब्रह्मा) का शरीर सूक्ष्म ही है; स्थूल नहीं है ॥ ७२ ॥ यह जगत् ब्रह्मा का आकार धारण करने वाले मन नामक जीव (ब्रह्मा) का मनोराज्य (कल्पना) है, किन्तु सत्य प्रतीत होता है ॥ ७३ ॥

शक्ति :—

सब का ईश्वर (नियन्ता) ब्रह्म सब शक्तियों से सम्पन्न है । वह जिस शक्ति को चाहे जहाँ पर प्रकट कर सकता है ॥ ७४ ॥ जैसे शरीरधारी मनुष्य की इच्छा कल्पना के नगर की रचना कर लेती है वैसे ही भगवान् की स्पन्दशक्तिरूपिणी इच्छा इस दृश्य जगत् की रचना करती है ॥ ७५ ॥ परमेश्वर (शिव) की वह स्वाभाविक स्पन्दशक्ति

प्रकृति कहलाती है और वही जगन्माया (जगत् को रचने वाली) के नाम से भी प्रसिद्ध है ॥७६॥ जिस प्रकार चेतन मकड़ी से जड़ जाले की उत्पत्ति होती है उसी प्रकार नित्य ज्ञानस्वरूप पुरुष (ब्रह्म) से प्रकृति उत्पन्न होती है ॥७७॥ जिस प्रकार वायु और उसका चलना और अग्नि तथा उसकी उष्णता एक ही हैं, उसी प्रकार चिन्मात्र (ब्रह्म) तथा उसकी स्पन्दनशक्ति एक ही हैं ॥ ७८ ॥

परम ब्रह्म :—

ब्रह्म वह परम तत्त्व है जिसमें सब कुछ है, जो सब ओर है, जो पूर्ण रूप से सब कुछ है, जो कि सदा और सब जगद् पूर्ण रूप से स्थित है ॥७९॥ ब्रह्म केवल उसके जानने वाले के अनुभव में ही आ सकता है, उसका वर्णन नहीं हो सकता। वह अवाच्य है (शब्दों द्वारा उसका वर्णन नहीं हो सकता) अनभिष्यक्त है (किसी प्रकार उसको प्रकट नहीं कर सकते), इन्द्रियों से परे है (अर्थात् इन्द्रियों द्वारा उसका ज्ञान नहीं हो सकता), और उसको कोई विशेष नाम नहीं दिया जा सकता ॥८०॥ जैसे बादल से वर्षा की वूँदें गिरती हैं वैसे ही उस अक्षय और पूर्ण अमृत से नाना प्रकार के असार संसारों के दृश्य उदय होते हैं ॥८१॥ ब्रह्म वह निर्विकार चिदाकाश है जिससे द्रष्टा, दर्शन और दृश्य तीनों का उदय होता है और जिसमें इनका अस्त भी होता है ॥ ८२ ॥ परमात्मा वह ज्ञानरूपी महासमुद्र है जिसमें यथास्थित संसार का अत्यन्त अभाव है ॥ ८३ ॥ जो शून्य होते हुए भी अशून्य के समान है; जिसमें जगत् वर्तमान रहता हुआ भी शून्य है; जो सृष्टिसमूह के होते हुए भी शून्य है; वह परमात्मा का स्वरूप है ॥ ८४ ॥ वह न सत् है न असत्; न दोनों का मध्य; वह कुछ भी नहीं है तो भी सब कुछ है, वह मन और वचन में आने वाली कोई वस्तु नहीं है; वह शून्य से भी शून्य और सुख से भी अधिक सुखरूप (अर्थात् परमानन्द) है ॥ ८५ ॥

विकास :—

ब्रह्म की वृंहा (वर्द्धनशक्ति) ही जगत् है और जगत् ब्रह्म का वृंहण है। अनादि और अनन्त ब्रह्म ही समुद्र की नाई बढ रहा है ॥ ८६ ॥ जैसे जल को वूँदें, कण, लहर, तरङ्ग, फेन, भँवर आदि जल में जल ही हैं ॥ ८७ ॥ वैसे ही शरीर, इच्छा, दृश्य जगत्, सृष्टि और प्रलय, भाव की उत्पत्ति, विषय आदि जो कुछ भी जगत् में है वह सब ब्रह्म में ब्रह्म ही है ॥ ८८ ॥ जैसे जड़, तने, शाख, पत्तों, बेल, फूल और फलों वाला वृक्ष अपने बीज के भीतर मौजूद रहता है वैसे यह जगत् ब्रह्म में मौजूद रहता है ॥ ८९ ॥ उस चितितत्त्व में, जो कि स्वयं अविभक्त रूप है, नानाता (बहुरूपता) इस प्रकार मौजूद रहती है जैसे कि मोर के अण्डे के रस के भीतर उसकी पूँछ के नाना प्रकार के रङ्ग ॥ ९० ॥ जैसे जल में लहरों के उत्थान और पतन से जल से अन्य कोई रूप-परिवर्तन नहीं होता उसी प्रकार सृष्टि और प्रलयों के होने से ब्रह्म का अपना रूप तबदल नहीं होता (ब्रह्म वैसे का वैसे ही रहता है) ॥ ९१ ॥

तादात्म्य :—

जैसे 'कड़ा' शब्द का अर्थ सोने से कोई पृथक् वस्तु नहीं है और जैसे सोना कड़े से कोई पृथक् वस्तु नहीं है वैसे ही जगत् शब्द से कोई परम 'ब्रह्म' से अन्य वस्तु नहीं समझना चाहिये ॥ ९२ ॥ पाताल में, पृथ्वी पर, स्वर्ग में, प्राणियों में और आकाश में जो कुछ दिखाई देता है वह चित्‌रूप परम ब्रह्म ही है ; और कुछ भी नहीं ॥ ९३ ॥

जगत् का मिथ्यात्व :—

आदि और अन्त में जो नित्य है वही 'सत्य' है, दूसरा नहीं ; जो आदि और अन्त में सत्य है वही वर्त्तमान में भी सत्य है ॥ ९४ ॥ मृगतृष्णा के जल के समान, अनुभव में आये हुए कल्पना-जगत् के समान, यह जगत् सत्य के समान प्रतीत होता हुआ भी अवास्तविक और असत्य

है ॥ ९५ ॥ जब तक अज्ञान है, जब तक ब्रह्मभावना का उदय नहीं हुआ, जब तक जगत् में आस्था है, तभी तक चित्त आदि की कल्पना दृढ़ रहती है ॥ ९६ ॥

परम दृष्टि:—

जगत् नाम की कोई वस्तु ही नहीं है। वास्तव में जगत् है ही नहीं। सब कुछ केवल ब्रह्म ही है ॥ ९७ ॥ अध्यात्म शास्त्रों का सब से ऊँचा सिद्धान्त यही है कि न अविद्या है, न माया है, केवल शान्त ब्रह्म ही सब कुछ है ॥ ९८ ॥ जगत् का ज्ञान होते हुए भी वास्तव में कुछ उत्पन्न नहीं हुआ। शुद्ध, अत्यन्त शून्य, परम आकाश अपने स्वरूप में स्थित है ॥ ९९ ॥

आनन्द:—

सब प्राणी आनन्द के लिये ही यत्न करते हैं, (किन्तु जीवन में आनन्द कहाँ? क्योंकि) सब सम्पत्ति आपत्ति रूप है और सुख केवल दुःख रूप है ॥ १०० ॥ जैसे अग्नि की ज्वाला के सिर पर धूँ की कालिमा मौजूद रहती है वैसे ही संसार के सभी सुखों की आशाओं का अन्त दुःख में ही होता है ॥ १०१ ॥ धन और स्त्री पुत्र आदि की वृद्धि होने पर हर्ष का अवसर ही क्या है? मृगतृष्णा की नदी में यद्यपि बाढ़ भी आजाये तो भी जल की चाहवालों (प्यासों) को क्या आनन्द हो सकता है ॥ १०२ ॥ इच्छा के उदय होने पर जो दुःख होता है वह दुःख नरक में भी नहीं होता, और इच्छा के शान्त होने पर जो सुख होता है वह सुख ब्रह्मलोक में भी नसीब नहीं होता ॥ १०३ ॥ इच्छा रहित होना राज्य से, स्वर्ग से, चन्द्रमा से, भगवान् से, प्रेमिका की प्रीति से भी अधिक सुखदाई है ॥ १०४ ॥ जैसे मरुभूमि में कहीं पर भी बर्फ नहीं होता वैसे ही जो अकृत्रिम सुख चित्त (इच्छा, वासना) के न उदय होने से होता है वह स्वर्ग जैसे स्थानों में भी नहीं प्राप्त हो सकता ॥ १०५ ॥ जैसे जिस आदमी ने स्वर्ग का

सुख देख लिया है उसका मन पृथ्वी पर नहीं लग सकता, वैसे ही जिसने कुछ समय के लिये भी आत्मा में स्थिति प्राप्त कर ली है उसका मन भोगों में नहीं लग सकता ॥ १०६ ॥

बन्धन और मोक्ष :—

आशा के फाँसों में बँधे हुए और वासना की रस्सियों से जकड़े हुए जीव संसार में बन्धन को इस प्रकार प्राप्त होते हैं जैसे रस्सी में बँधे हुए पक्षी ॥ १०७ ॥ जिसने अनन्त और अप्रमेय आत्मा को महद्बुद्ध (परिच्छिन्न) मान लिया है उसने अपने आपको बन्धन में डाल दिया है ॥ १०८ ॥ ब्रह्मरूपी समुद्र में वास करते हुए भी हम लोग यह समझ कर कि हम ब्रह्म से कोई अलग वस्तु हैं—और इस प्रकार की भावना को दृढ़ करके—संसार की भयानक अवस्था में मोह को प्राप्त होते हैं ॥ १०९ ॥ संसार में घूमने और जन्मजन्मान्तर का फल पाने का हेतु जीवों के लिये आत्मा को भूलने के सिवाय कुछ भी नहीं है ॥ ११० ॥ “मैं यह हूँ” इस प्रकार का सङ्कल्प नाशकारी बन्धन में डालने वाला है और “मैं यह नहीं हूँ” इस संकल्प से मोक्ष प्राप्त होता है ॥ १११ ॥ आत्मा के अज्ञान से ही भ्रम उत्पन्न होता और आत्मा के ज्ञान से ही ज्ञान की अन्तिम सीमा की प्राप्ति होती है ॥ ११२ ॥ मिथ्या ज्ञान से उत्पन्न हुई अज्ञान की झूठी गोंठ, जो अहंभाव के रूप में अनुभूत हो रही है, जब खुल जाती है तब मोक्ष का अनुभव होता है ॥ ११३ ॥

मोक्ष का उपाय :—

बुद्धिमान् लोग दुस्तर संसार-समुद्र से ज्ञान-युक्तिरूपी नौका द्वारा क्षण भर में पार हो जाते हैं ॥ ११४ ॥ तीर्थ से, दानसे, स्नान से, विद्या से, ध्यान से, योग से, तप से और यज्ञ से मुक्ति प्राप्त नहीं होती ॥ ११५ ॥ आत्मा ही आत्मा का बन्धु है; आत्मा ही आत्मा का शत्रु है। यदि आत्मा आत्मा को नहीं बचा सकता तो दूसरा और कोई उपाय नहीं है ॥ ११६ ॥ जो कुछ कहीं पर कोई प्राप्त

करता है, वह अपनी शक्ति के प्रयोग से ही प्राप्त करता है। दूसरे किसी उपाय से किसी को कुछ नहीं मिलता ॥ ११७ ॥ जैसे कि धान्यों के सौन्दर्य की उत्पादक यह पृथ्वी है उसी प्रकार सब उत्तम स्थान और चिरकाल तक स्थिर रहने वाली सम्पदायें मन को वश में करने से ही प्राप्त होती हैं ॥ ११८ ॥ यदि विष्णु आदि देवताओं को प्रसन्न करने का यत्न कर सकते हो तो अपने मन ही को शुद्ध करने का यत्न क्यों नहीं करते ॥ ११९ ॥ सब प्राणियों के हृदय में विष्णु (आत्मा) निवास करते हैं। अपने भीतर रहने वाले विष्णु को छोड़ कर जो लोग विष्णु की तलाश बाहर करते हैं वे अधम हैं ॥ १२० ॥ यदि गुरु आदि किसी व्यक्ति का उसके अपने पुरुषार्थ के बिना ही उद्धार कर सकते हैं तो वे ऊँट, हाथी और बैल का उद्धार क्यों नहीं कर देते ॥ १२१ ॥ कर्म की जड़ वासनात्मक मन की संवित् है। इस लिये शरीर जब तक रहता है तब तक कर्म का त्याग नहीं हो सकता ॥ १२२ ॥

ज्ञान-सिद्धि :—

ज्ञानबन्धु वह है जो शास्त्रों का पठन और चर्चा शिल्पकार की नाई भोगों को प्राप्त करने के लिये करता है, उनके अनुसार चलने के लिये नहीं ॥ १२३ ॥ सैकड़ों जन्मों में अनुभूत होने के कारण बहुत दृढ़ हुई संसारभावना का क्षय विना बहुत समय तक (ज्ञान का अभ्यास और योग किये नहीं होता ॥ १२४ ॥ योग (संसार से पार उतरने की युक्ति) शब्द के तीन अर्थ हैं :— (१) एक तत्त्व का गहरा अभ्यास, (२) प्राणों का निरोध और (३) मन का निग्रह ॥ १२५ ॥ इन तीनों प्रयोगोंमें से मन को शान्त करना सबसे उत्तम है। इसके सिद्ध हो जाने पर शीघ्र ही कल्याण हो जाता है ॥ १२६ ॥ वैराग्य, कारण का अभ्यास, व्यसन-क्षय, और परमार्थ का ज्ञान— इन से प्राण वायु का निरोध होता है ॥ १२७ ॥ इस माया-चक्र की नाभि मन है। यदि उसको जोर से पकड़ कर स्थिर कर दिया जाये तो फिर संसार

दुःख नहीं देता ॥ १२८ ॥ विचार द्वारा मन विलीन हो जाता है, और मन के लय हो जाने पर ही कल्याण होता है ॥ १२९ ॥ महाराज ! वासना को ही चित्त का स्वरूप जानो । वासना और चित्त दोनों पर्यायवाची शब्द हैं ॥ १३० ॥

ज्ञान की सात भूमिकायें :—

आत्मा का बोध देने वाले ज्ञान की सात भूमिकायें हैं : मुक्ति इन सातों भूमिकाओं से परे है ॥ १३१ ॥ सात भूमिकायें ये हैं :—
१. शुभेच्छा, २. विचारणा, ३. तनुमानसा ॥ १३२ ॥ ४. सत्त्वापत्ति, ५. असंसक्ति, ६. पदार्थाभावनी और ७. तुर्यगा ॥ १३३ ॥

कर्म-वन्धन का कटना :—

संसार में ऐसा कोई स्थान—पहाड़, आकाश, समुद्र, स्वर्ग आदि नहीं है जहाँ पर अपने किये हुए कर्मों का फल न मिलता हो ॥ १३४ ॥ सब कर्मों का बीज मन का स्पन्दन है । यह सुना भी जाता है और अनुभव में भी यही आता है । विविधि प्रकार की क्रियायें जो नाना प्रकार के फल लाती हैं उसकी अनेक शाखायें हैं ॥ १३५ ॥ परम ब्रह्म से सारे जीव बिना किसी कारण (पूर्व कर्म के) आप से आप ही उदय हो जाते हैं । उत्पन्न होने के पीछे उनके अपने कर्म उनके दुःख-सुख के कारण हो जाते हैं ॥ १३६ ॥ वासना के क्षीण हो जाने पर ज्ञानी को अपनी किसी क्रिया का फल नहीं भोगना पड़ता । वासना के अभाव से सब क्रियायें फलरहित हो जाती हैं ; चाहे वे अशुभ फल देने वाली ही क्यों न हों—जैसे कि सींचे बिना लता सूख जाती है ॥ १३७ ॥ सम, शुद्ध और विकार-रहित बुद्धि से जो कुछ भी किया जाता है वह कभी दोष नहीं लाता ॥ १३८ ॥

आत्मा का अनुभव :—

जैसे कतक (एक फल का नाम) को पानी में डालते ही पानी निर्मल हो जाता है वैसे ही, पक्षियों के जाल के चूहे द्वारा कट जाने के

नाई', वैराग्य से संसार की वासनाओं के जाल के कट जाने पर, और हृदय की ग्रन्थियों के ढीला होकर खुल जाने पर, ज्ञान के कारण उस व्यक्ति के भीतर आत्मा का प्रकाश हो जाता है ॥ १३९, १४० ॥

जीवन्मुक्त के लक्षण :—

मुक्त पुरुष को न किसी वस्तु के प्रति रसिकता होती है और न नीरसता । वह विषयों का इच्छुक होकर विषयों में नहीं रमता ॥ १४१ ॥ वे दूसरों के मन के भावों को जान कर लोकप्रिय आचरण करते हैं और प्रिय और मधुर वाणी बोलते हैं । वे क्षण भर में कार्यों का विवेचन और निर्णय कर लेते हैं ॥ १४२ ॥ मुक्त पुरुष प्राप्त वस्तु की उपेक्षा नहीं करता, और अप्राप्त वस्तु की वाञ्छा नहीं करता; सब वृत्तियों में अपने अन्दर शान्त और शीतल रहता है ॥१४३॥ वे नागरिक जनों के समान आचार वाले और सबके बन्धु होते हैं; बाहर से तो वे सब काम करते हुए दिखाई पड़ते हैं लेकिन भीतर सब प्रकार से शान्त रहते हैं ॥१४४॥ मुक्त पुरुष वर्ण, धर्म, आश्रम, आचार और शास्त्रों की यन्त्रणा से बरी होकर जगत् के जञ्जाल से इस प्रकार निकल भागता है जैसे पिञ्जरे से शेर ॥१४५॥ न वह डरता है, न वह विवश और दीन होता है; वह मौनी, सम और स्वस्थ मन होकर पर्वत के समान धीरता से रहता है ॥१४६॥ जैसा अवसर हो उसके अनुसार असक्त मन से वह भक्त के प्रति भक्त का सा, शठ के प्रति शठ का सा ॥१४७॥ बालक के प्रति बालक का सा, वृद्धों के प्रति वृद्धों का सा, धीरों के प्रति धीरता का व्यवहार करता है । यौवन-वृत्तिवालों में वह युवा की नाई' रहता है और दुःखियों को देखकर दुःखी होता है ॥१४८॥ जैसे आँख देखने का आनन्द लेती है वैसे ही वह भी बिना विशेष यत्न किये यथा प्राप्त भोगों को लीला से असक्त मन होकर भोगता रहता है ॥१४९॥ ज्ञानी लोग जगत् के व्यवहार को न त्यागते हैं और न उसकी कामना ही करते हैं । जैसा जैसा अवसर होता है वे वैसा ही व्यवहार करते हैं ॥१५०॥ जिसके भीतर सदा सत्त्व का

प्रकाश रहता है उसकी लोकपाल इस प्रकार रक्षा करते हैं जैसे सारे ब्रह्माण्ड की ॥१५१॥ जैसे वसन्त ऋतु में वृक्षों की सुन्दरता और शोभा आदि गुण बढ़ जाते हैं वैसे ही तत्त्वज्ञान प्राप्त हो जाने पर मनुष्य में बल, बुद्धि और तेज की वृद्धि हो जाती है ॥१५२॥

कुलीन स्त्रियों का महत्त्व :—

अच्छे कुलों की प्रयत्नशील स्त्रियाँ मनुष्य को अनन्त और अनादि गहरे मोह से पार कर देती हैं ॥ १५३ ॥ शास्त्र, गुरु और मंत्र आदि में से कोई भी संसार से पार उतारने में इतना सहायक नहीं है जितनी कि स्नेह से भरी हुई अच्छे कुलों की स्त्रियाँ अपने पतियों को पार उतारने में सहायक होती हैं ॥ १५४ ॥ कुलीन स्त्रियाँ अपने पति की सखा, बन्धु, सुहृद्, सेवक, गुरु, मित्र, धन, सुख, शास्त्र, मन्दिर, दास आदि सभी कुछ होती हैं ॥ १५५ ॥

सर्व-बन्धुत्व :—

यह क्षुद्रबुद्धि प्राणियों का विचार है कि अमुक व्यक्ति मेरा बन्धु है और अमुक नहीं है। उदारचरित पुरुषों की बुद्धि आवरणरहित होती है अर्थात् उनमें भेद-दृष्टि नहीं होती, वे सब को समान समझते हैं ॥ १५६ ॥ सर्वव्यापी आत्मा की एकता होने से “यह मेरा बन्धु है और वह पराया है” ऐसी कल्पना कैसे हो सकती है ? ॥ १५७ ॥ हे राम ! समस्त प्राणी तुम्हारे बान्धव हैं। तुमसे अलग कोई दूसरे नहीं ॥ १५८ ॥

सब धर्मों की एकता :—

जिस प्रकार बहुत से मुसाफिर नाना देशों से चले आये हुए नाना मार्गों द्वारा एक ही नगर को जाते हैं उसी प्रकार सब दर्शन एक ही विचित्र परमार्थ पद को नाना देश और काल में ज्ञात हुए मार्गोंद्वारा प्राप्त करते हैं ॥ १५९ ॥ नाना प्रकार से उस परम पद को पहुँचते हुए वे लोग—परमार्थ का किसी को भी ठीक ज्ञान न होने के कारण, और

उसका विपरीत ज्ञान होने से भी— परस्पर विवाद करते हैं ॥ १६० ॥
जिस प्रकार बटोही लोग अपने अपने मार्ग को ही सर्वोत्तम समझते हैं, उसी प्रकार वे भी अपने अपने सिद्धान्तों की ही प्रशंसा करते हैं ॥ १६१ ॥

युक्तियुक्त शास्त्र ही उपादेय है :—

बालकद्वारा भी कही हुई युक्तिसंगत बात उपयोगी है परन्तु यदि
युक्तिविरुद्ध बात स्वयं ब्रह्मा के मुख से भी निकली हो तथापि तृण के
समान त्याज्य है ॥ १६२ ॥ “यह मेरे पिता का कुर्छा है” ऐसा सोच
कर ही जो सामने मौजूद गंगाजल का परित्याग कर उस कुर्छा का
जल पीता है उस मूर्ख पर कौन शासन नहीं करता ? अर्थात् वह
सबका दास होकर रहता है ॥ १६३ ॥ यदि युक्ति और ज्ञान से भरा हुय्य
शास्त्र मनुष्यकृत भी हो तो वह उपादेय है ; परन्तु ऋषि-कृत शास्त्र भी
युक्तिविरुद्ध होने से केवल एक न्याय को चाहने वाले पुरुष के द्वारा
त्याज्य है ॥ १६४ ॥

योगवासिष्ठ माहात्म्य :—

इस शास्त्र के वार २ पढ़ने से और इसमें प्रतिपादित सिद्धान्तों को
भली भाँति व्यवहार में लाने से मनुष्य में महान् गुणों वाली नागरिकता
का उदय होता है ॥ १६५ ॥ इस ग्रन्थ के श्रवण से बुद्धि में परम ज्ञान
का उदय हो जाता है और जीवनमुक्ति का अनुभव होने लगता है ॥ १६६ ॥

॥ इति ॥

THE ESSENCE OF THE PHILOSOPHY OF VASISTHA

The Hollowness of the World :—

Life is fast fleeting ; death is awfully cruel ; youth is extremely evanescent. Childhood is given to ignorance (1). Everything is under the sway of death and decay ; all relations are chains of bondage ; enjoyments are our fatal diseases ; and desires are tantalizing mirages (2). Our own senses are our enemies. What is at some time believed to be true soon turns out to be otherwise. The Self kills itself ; the mind is its own adversary (3). All things come into existence only to disappear. Desire is a chain that binds us to the world. All creatures are, as it were, being carried away, but none knows where (4). All human beings are self-deluded to be entrapped into the snares of desires and thereby afflicted with the troubles of birth and death, like deer in a forest (5). Is there any view which is free from error ; any place where there is no suffering ; any creation which is not transitory ; and any transaction which is free from deception ? (6).

The Quest :—

Hence, is there any better state of existence, which may be free from suffering, ignorance and grief and be full of unconditioned good (7)? What is the method, what is the way, what is the science, and what is the refuge to save this life from undesirable happenings ? (8).

The Ignorant alone is Miserable :—

The stream of wordly life flows on on account of the follies of the ignorant. The ignorant alone are subject to violent pleasures and pains (9).

Knowledge is the only Remedy of Suffering :—

As the flames of fire do not burn a forest which has been made wet by rain, so sorrows do not touch the man who has got a right vision, who is wise, and who knows what ought to be known (10).

The Power of Self-effort :—

There is no other way to bring about the end of all suffering than one's own effort (11). If any body aspires for anything and makes an attempt to achieve it, he shall have it, provided that he does not retrace his steps back on his way (12). One gets only what one has striven for ; nothing is ever achieved by sitting idle (13). They who give up effort and depend on fate, are their own enemies, and in the long run are deprived of all their virtue, wealth and pleasures(14). Nothing is done by fate. Fate is only an imaginary something. Fools alone imagine fate and, depending upon it, go to destruction (15). Destiny (fate) is nothing but what inevitably happens as the good or bad result of our efforts already put forth(16). There is no other destiny than our own past efforts. Our past actions alone constitute our destiny (17). The past and present efforts (in case they are in contrary directions) oppose each other like two contesting rams ; those which have greater force, surely, vanquish the others (18).

The Evil of Indolence.

Had there been no evil of indolence in the world, every body would have been rich and learned. It is on account of indolence that the entire earth is full of fools and poverty-stricken people (19).

The Qualities of the aspirant :—

There are four ways of crossing over the ocean of worldly existence, namely, Contentment, Company of the good (wise), Thinking (Contemplation) and Tranquillity (20).

Experience is the only Source of Knowledge :—

There is only one source of knowledge (pramāṇa), viz., Pratyaksha (Direct Experience), which is the ground and source of all other pramāṇas (sources of knowledge), as the ocean is the ultimate source of all waters (21). Inference and Scriptures, etc. cannot show us the Self. It is in Intuition alone that It is experienced, always, wholly, and in all its aspects (22).

Knowledge presupposes Unity of Subject and Object :—

There cannot be any relation possible between things absolutely different in nature ; and there cannot be an experience of one by another without there being a relation between the two (23).

Identity between the Subject and the Object :—

Had there been no identity between the subject and the object in their consciousness-aspect, the subject would have remained ignorant of the object, as a stone remains unconscious of the taste of a sugar cane (24).

The World as Imagination :—

All the three worlds are constructed by the mind with thought alone. Consciousness manifests everything in the form of imaginary creation within itself (25).

No Fundamental Difference between Waking and Dream :—

There is no difference between the states of waking and dreaming other than that the one is stable while the other is not. The contents of both the experiences are of a homogeneous nature, always and everywhere (26). At the time of dreaming even the dream is regarded as the waking state because at that time it is felt as stable ; and the waking experience will be taken as a dream if one realizes its instability(27).

Every Individual has His own world ;—

The world-illusion has arisen differently in different minds. One does not know anything but the contents of one's own consciousness (28).

Formation of the Objective World :—

Whatever the first Creator imagines becomes a reality forthwith. This world is His imagination (29).

Identity between Realism and Idealism :—

In every monad, everything is represented in the same fashion as in the Cosmic Mind (Virāḍātmā) (30). The cosmic imagination is the original stress which is initiated and represented in all minds (31). We know each other and share the world-experience in common with others, on account of their being represented or reflected (prati-bimba) in each individual the same cosmic order of ideas which is imagined in the Cosmic Consciousness (Mahā-chit) (32).

The creature becomes the creator :—

Whatever is conscired becomes a consciring individual in its own right as, in summer, small insects are generated from the perspiration of other living beings (33).

Worlds within Worlds :—

Within this world there are innumerable worlds, quite distinctive in their nature; and within them, again, are others, and so on, like the covers of a plantain tree (34).

Worlds, Invisible to Each Other :—

Within every world there are many other worlds of various kinds unknown to each other (35).

Everything possible Everywhere :—

In the Whole which contains the potentiality of everything every thing is always possible everywhere in its entirety. In the Absolute everything exists everywhere and always in its completeness (36).

Infinite Kinds of Worlds :—

Innumerable worlds arise and perish in the Absolute Ocean of Existence like the waves on the surface of an ocean (37).

Repeated Evolution and Dissolution of Creatures :—

Monads originate and pass away like the green plants of the spring season which are dried up in the summer (38).

Three Planes of Existence :—

There are three ethers: the ordinary ether known to us in the objective world, the mental ether, and the ether of consciousness. The last is the subtlest of the three (39).

The Nature of Mind :—

Mind is a definite form of the all-powerful Absolute Consciousness assumed by It through Its own will-power (40).

Difference between Mind and the Absolute :—

The Brahman is consciousness without any object present to it, whereas mind is consciousness with objectivity (41).

The Functional Aspects of Mind :—

As an actor assumes several forms on the stage, quickly one after another, so mind while engaged in various activities assumes different names and forms (42). As the same man may appear in various names and forms on account of his being in various offices, so the mind is called the soul, desire, action etc. on account of its various activities (43).

All Limitation is self-inflicted :—

All the jīvas (minds) get themselves limited to various forms of existence and consequently become bound to expectations on account of the obsession of their own desires (44).

Unlimited Number of Individuals or Monads :

Millions and billions of monads containing within themselves worldly desires spring from the Creator, Brahmā (45). Countless of them have already been born, countless are being born, and countless will be born in course of time, like sprays of water from a waterfall (46).

Thought-Power :—

The essence of the individual is its imagination (sankalpa). Whatever it imagines within itself that is soon realized in the objective world (47). Every individual realizes all its desires through its own power. In every individual exists this kind of power which ultimately is a power of consciousness (48). Whatever and whenever a man imagines intensely, he experiences in actual life (49). As water assumes the form of an eddy so whatever a pure mind desires to experience that becomes a reality (50). Success is achieved only through one's own efforts repeatedly performed (51). Sufferings multiply by leaps and bounds, on account of the folly of mind and they vanish like ice before the sun by its own efforts (52). The mind creates the body for the realization of its own desires, as a silk-worm constructs a cocoon around itself (53). If there is peace within, the whole world looks cool and pleasing, but when the fire of desires burns within, the world appears ablaze to us (54). When one's mind is perfected, the whole world appears to him to be full of nectar, just as to a man putting on a pair of shoes the whole earth appears to be covered with leather (55). The mind is the nave of this wonderful wheel of the world which deludes us by its movements (56). When, with intelligence and effort, it (the mind) is stopped from moving (i. e., from desiring, willing, thinking, imagining etc.), the wheel of the world is stopped (57).

What Am I ?

I am fragrance in flowers ; I am the beauty of leaves and flowers ; beauty of beauties I am ; and I am the experience behind all forms (58). He knows truly who knows that the Self is the Infinite Ether (of consciousness) which has within itself all time, space and movement (59). He truly knows who knows that whatever is present in all the three worlds, is a part of his own self, as waves are parts of the ocean (60).

Death :—

That the dead are completely annihilated, is a wrong statement and is not true to the fact. The so called dead undergoes another experience in a different time—space—order (61). Having experienced an illusory insensibility of death and having forgotten the previous state of existence the individual comes to have an experience of another state (62). Whenever and wherever the individual experiences death, then and there he begins to see another world of a similar nature extending around him (63). As birds pass from one tree to another, so the souls bound by thousands of fetters of worldly desires and expectations have to pass from one body to another (64). The experience of cycles of births and deaths is like whirlpools in a river continually undergone by the ignorant soul, as long as the pure Self is not realized (65). The consciousness of a person is neither born nor dead. It only experiences these states as it were in a dream (66). The longevity or shortness of life in this world depends on the purity or impurity of one's acts, and on the nature of the country, the age, his profession and food (67).

The Creator :—

At the commencement of the creation, Prajā-pati (the Lord of creatures) manifested in the same manner as a dream-personality emerges in the dream. He continues to exist still (68). The mind is the Creator and the Creator is the mind. The absolute Brahman creates the world by assuming the form of mind. (69). The Absolute Consciousness which is not limited in time, space etc, assumes a form limited in time and space by Its own Power, and out of Its own creative sport (Līlā) (70). It imagines Itself to be something other than Its original, absolute existence, and thereby becomes the other (an entity by itself) (71). The Creator has no physical body. His body is only mental in its nature (72). The world an illusory thought-construction of the mind working in the form of the Creator, although it appears to be real (73).

The Creative Power :—

The Lord of all, the Brahman, is endowed with all possible potencies which manifest themselves as things, whenever so willed (74). As the imaginative power of a man spreads out the world of his fancy, so does the creative power of the Absolute spread out this objective world (75). The Creative Power is called Prakṛti, Divine Will of Shiva, and the world-creating Māyā (76). Prakṛti originates from the Absolute Brahman, the Purusha, the eternally illuminating Consciousness, as an inanimate web originates from a living spider (77). The creative Power and the pure Consciousness are identical in essence as wind and air, and, as heat and fire are (78).

The Absolute Reality :—

The Absolute is that in which everything exists, from which everything originates, which is in everything, which pervades everything, which is the whole of everything, and which is spread all around and in everything (79). It is unspeakable, inexpressible, un-namable; its nature is not an object of description, for it is not an object of the senses (80). As rains proceed from the limitless and full expanse of water, so the ephemeral world-appearances proceed from the undecaying, full, and immortal Brahman (81). Know it to be that defectless Ether of consciousness from which arise the subject, objects and knowledge, and that in which they all merge (82). It is that ocean of consciousness in which there is absolute negation of the world as it exists for us (83); that which is absolutely void in spite of the existence of multitudes of worlds (84). It is neither being nor non-being, nor anything between the two. It is nothing, yet it is all. It is incapable of being grasped by mind and expressed by speech. It is more of nothing than nothing and more of happiness than happiness itself (85).

Manifestation of the Absolute :—

The world is the expansion of the Brahman and the expansion of the Brahman is the world. The Brahman which is without beginning and end overflows into the world like an ocean (86). As the waves, the billows, the ripples, the eddies, the bubbles, the sprays etc. of water are water manifesting in water, so also the body, the creative force, the objective world, the growth and decay, the play of ideation in bringing things into existence, and the things of the world, are all Brahman manifesting in the Brahman (87-88). As in a seed the tree exists (potentially) with all its leaves, flowers, branches, fruits, trunk and root, so does this world, exist in the Brahman (89). The multiplicity of the world exists within the undifferentiated consciousness-mass in the same way as the variety of hues of a peacock-tail is present in the homogeneous liquid of the egg (out of which it comes) (90). As water does not change into something else by the constant rise and fall of waves on its surface, so also the Absolute does not become anything else by evolution and involution of worlds within it (91).

Identity of Everything with the Absolute :—

As gold and ornaments of gold are not two different things so also the Brahman and the world are not different from each other (92). Whatever is seen in the three worlds, the earth, the heaven and the netherland, in sky, in animate and inanimate spheres is nothing but Absolute Consciousness (93).

Unreality of the World :—

That is true, and nothing else, which does not begin to exist nor cease to exist at any time.

That alone is real which existed before the beginning and which will continue to exist after the end (of the manifestation of the world-process) (94). The entire world is merely an illusory appearance like the illusory appearance of water in a desert or like the imaginary world experienced in fancy. It is unreal but appears to be real (95). The appearance of mind etc. continues to be taken as real as long as there is ignorance, as long as the Absolute is not realized and as long as there is trust in the forms of the world (96).

The Absolute Point-of-View :—

In reality, from the ultimate point of view, the world does not at all exist even nominally. Everything is Brahman Itself. There is no world in reality (97). The ultimate conclusion of all the spiritual scriptures, which supersedes all other conclusions, is that in reality there is neither Avidyā (ignorance) nor Māyā (illusion). The only reality is Brahman in which all distinctions and processes are merged (98). Even when a vision of the world appears to arise in the Brahman, there is nothing actually created. Even in that state, the Absolute consciousness exists as absolutely pure and void of all change like the sky (99).

Happiness :—

All creatures strive for happiness (very few, however, find it, for) all worldly prosperity brings misery and all worldly pleasures end in pain (100). All hopes of pleasures terminate in pain, as all bright flames terminate in the darkness of smoke. (101). There is really no occasion to rejoice at the increase of one's own wealth, possession and enjoyment. The thirsty man can find no joy even when there is a flood in a mirage-river (102). There is no pain even in hell compared to that experienced by one who has got an unfulfilled desire and there is no happiness even in Brahma-loka compared to that which is experienced by one in whom desires have ceased to arise (103). The happiness of desirelessness is much greater than that of ruling over an empire, than that of the company of one's own beloved, than that of heaven or Chandra-loka, and even than that enjoyed by Vishnu (104). As a house of ice cannot exist in a desert, the peculiar and most natural joy which is felt when the mind is not functioning, is such as cannot be experienced otherwise even in heaven (105). As a man who has seen heaven will not find any interest in earthly things, so also one who has tasted the bliss inherent in the Self, for years or even for a moment, will not find any taste in the worldly objects of enjoyment (106).

Bondage and Liberation :—

They become bound to the world, like birds bound to ropes, who are bound by the cords of desires and hopes (107). He who imagines limitation in the Infinite Self, becomes limited and gets bound (108). In spite of living in the ocean of the Absolute, and in reality being identical with it, when we imagine ourselves to be different from it, we undergo the delusion of the frightful worldly career (109). There seems to be no other reason why people should undergo the experience of repeated births and deaths than forgetfulness of their real Self (110). To imagine 'I am' (this or that) tends to create unending bondage. The opposite feeling tends to liberate (111). The ignorance of the Self leads to delusion and the knowledge of the Self leads to the realization of a state which is the highest aim of all knowledge (112). Liberation is the cutting of the false knot of ignorance which consists in identifying the Self with the unreal and illusory objective things (113).

The Means of attaining Liberation :—

The wise easily cross over the ocean of wandering through life and death with the help of the boat of knowledge alone (114). This end is not achieved by anything else, say, pilgrimage, distribution of alms, bath in sacred rivers, learning, concentration, yoga, penances, and sacrifices (115). One is one's own friend or enemy. If one does not save oneself, there is no remedy (116). In fact, whatever is anywhere or at any time attained is attained by him through the application of his own energy, and not in any other way (117). As the earth is the ultimate source of all grains, so the control and culture of one's own mind is the source of all good positions and durable prosperity (118). If one can pray for the favour of gods like Vishṇu and others, why should he not do the same for propitiating his own mind (119)? The real God (Vishṇu) resides within every one. Unfortunate are they who seek after the external Vishṇu, having turned back from the inner one (120). If a spiritual preceptor (Guru) can raise one up without one's own efforts, why does he not raise a bull, an elephant or a camel ! (121). The root of action is the volitional thought or thought coloured with desire, Renunciation of action, therefore is, impossible as long as the body continues (122).

Practical Self-realization :—

He who studies the Shāstras (scriptures) for worldly enjoyment like an artisan who learns his art to earn his livelihood, and does not make any effort to bring into practice what he learns, is a jnāna-bandhu (pseudo-wise and not a jnāni—wise) (123). O Rama ! the present state of our experience is due to the (thinking, feeling and acting) habits of innumerable past lives. It cannot be easily got rid of without a prolonged process of thinking and practice (124). The way of Moksha consists in (1) deep affirmation of the One Reality, (2) stopping the movements of the vital currents and (3) control of the mind (125). Of all the three methods of realization, the control of the mind is the best, because it is easily effected and so leads to peace quickly (126). The movements of Prāṇa (vital currents) can be controlled through disinterestedness in the world, meditation on the ultimate cause, constant practice, methodical procedure and giving up bad habits (127). The mind is the nave of the wheel of the world-illusion. If one can stop it from moving, the world-wheel stops and ceases to trouble (128). The mind can be caused to dissolve by thinking on its own nature, and when thus dissolved, we attain the summum bonum (129). Desire is the essential nature of the mind. The mind and desires are synonyms (control of desires, therefore, is the control of mind) (130).

The Seven Stages of Self-realization :—

The realization of knowledge has seven stages. Liberation is the goal beyond the seventh stage (131). The first stage of self-realization is said to be Aspiration, the second Thinking, the third Purification of Mind, the fourth Reinstatement in the Ultimate Being, the fifth Non-attachment, the sixth Negation of objects, and the seventh Experience of the Fourth State (objectless consciousness.) (132-133).

Freedom from the Law of Karma :—

There is no place—no mountain, no sky, no ocean, no heaven where our actions do not fructify (134). The seed of action is the activity of the will. It is said to be so and is also thus experienced. Physical activities are only various offshoots of the will (135). In the beginning, all individuals proceed from the ultimate Reality without any cause on their part. But having come into existence, their own actions become the causes of their happiness and misery (136). No action binds individuals to its fruit, which is performed without a desire for any result for oneself, even though it be an evil one, as no creeper grows without being watered. (137). O Rama ! No harm is done by any action to him who does it with an equanimous, balanced and pure mind (138).

Experience of the Self :—

The network of wordly desires having been cut through like a net by a rat, and the knot of the heart having been broken through intense distaste, the Self-experience, the very nature of us dawns, i. e., becomes clearly manifest in intuition, as water becomes clear of all dirt, when the clearing nut is placed in it (139-140).

The Character of the Liberated Living Man :—

The Liberated sage does neither like any object nor dislike it. He moves amongst worldly things but not as one who is in need of them. (141). Although outwardly not appearing so, he is at his heart above all cravings. He divines the heart of others and behaves with them agreeably and talks with them sweetly and nobly. He exercises his judgment very quickly and makes a right choice between two courses of, conduct (142). He does not disregard what he gets nor does he hanker after what he has not got. He is always at peace and undisturbed under all circumstances (143). His conduct does not annoy any body, he behaves like a citizen and a friend of all. Although outwardly very busy, he is very calm and quiet at heart (144). Freed from the restrictions of caste, creed, stage of life (āshrama), custom and scriptures, he comes out of the net of the world as a lion from the cage (145). He is never afraid, feels never helpless or dejected. He remains firm, calm and quiet like a mountain (146). He behaves with his fellow-beings as the occasion and their status require, without the least stain in his mind. In the company of devotees he is like a devotee; to the knave, he is like a knave (147). He plays a child in the company of children, he is a youth among the young; he acts as an old man in the company of the aged. He is full of courage in the party of courageous people and shares the miseries of the miserable (148). He enjoys all the pleasures that come to him without any effort for them on his part, in a sportful and detached manner, in the same way as the eyes enjoy a scene before them (149). The wise who have become omniscient neither give up nor desire worldly activities. They do as occasion demands (150). Him, from whose heart emanates purity all around, the guardian angels of the world protect and support as they do the entire cosmos (151). As the beauty of a tree increases immensely in the spring season, so also the power, the intellect and the lustre of a man increase when he has realized the Truth (152).

The Greatness of Noble Women :—

A wife of noble descent can by her own effort lead her husband out of the deep and extensive darkness of ignorance (153). Even the scripture, the preceptor and the sacred incantations are not so effective in raising a man spiritually, as an affectionate wife of noble descent can be (154). She is to her husband a companion, a brother, a sympathizer, a servant, a teacher, a friend, a scripture, a refuge, a slave, wealth and joy, and all these at once (155).

Universal Brotherhood :—

The feeling that this one is my brother and that one is not is cherished only by petty-minded people. The heart of the magnanimous is open to all (156). How can one be said to be a brother and another not, when the same Self is equally present in all (157). All classes of creatures, O Rama, are your brothers. There is none here who is absolutely unrelated to you (158).

Unity of All Religions :—

All the various doctrines arising in different times and different countries lead to the same supreme Truth like many different paths leading travellers from different places to the same city. (159). It is the ignorance of the Absolute Truth and the misunderstanding of the different doctrines that cause their followers to quarrel with one another in bitter animosity (160). They consider their own particular dogmas to be the best, as every traveller may think, although quite wrongly, his own path to be the only or the best path (161).

Only Rational Scriptures should be followed :—

A reasonable statement, even of a child, should be accepted, while the unreasonable ones are to be discarded like a straw, even though they are made by the Creator Himself (162). Such a sentimental person as continues to drink the (filthy) water of a well, simply because it was dug by his dear father, leaving aside the (pure) Ganges-water available near at hand, is certainly a slave, under others' control (163). A devotee of reason should value the works even of ordinary persons, provided they advance knowledge and are logical, and should throw away those even of the sages, if they are not such (164).

Greatness of the Yoga-vāsiṣṭha :—

By repeated study of this work and by constant practice of its philosophy, one undoubtedly gets highest type of intellectual enlightenment (165); becomes a great and noble citizen and attains liberation in this very life (166).

EXTRACTS FROM
OPINIONS AND REVIEWS

Prof. Dr. Th. Stcherbatsky (Leningrad) :—

“A very thorough investigation imbued with a real scientific spirit and conducted in accordance with the methods of modern criticism, a work that tends to the advancement of our knowledge...Prof. Atreya has brought the problem (of the date of the Yogavāsiṣṭha) very near to its final solution. Prof. Atreya deserves the highest praise for introducing into his exposition numerous and various references to European philosophy.”

Prof. A. Berriedale Keith (Edinburgh) :—

“It seems clear that you have proved it to be before Sankara's date, and there seems to be a good case for placing it before Bhartṛhari. Despite the appearance of Prof. Das Gupta's Second Volume I have no doubt that your contribution (Yogavāsiṣṭha and Its Philosophy) to the study of Yogavāsiṣṭha has much value.”

Prof. A. Berriedale Keith (Edinburgh) :—

“You have certainly restored the system to its just place in the history of Indian thought, and have made its doctrines fully accessible in the most satisfactory manner. Your critical estimate of the tenets of this philosophical system is interesting and stimulating, and merits study by all those concerned with the value and purpose of Indian philosophy as a whole. The comparisons with western views of recent date are helpful, as bringing out clearly the fact that the same problems were faced in the time of the Yoga-vāsiṣṭha as are now raised, though the formulation thereof necessarily differed. I do not doubt that your work will be duly taken into account by future historians of Indian thought, and that it will rank as a valuable contribution towards the determination of the mode of the development of Indian souls. With congratulations on your devotion to the elucidation of Indian philosophy and to making available to others the results of your researches, Yours Sincerely,

A. Berriedale Keith."

Prof. Dr. Schrader (Kiel) :—

"I became acquainted with Yogavāsiṣṭha when I was in Adyar, and I have always since been wondering that Indologists did not seem to care for it.....I am inclined to congratulate you on your having proved that Yoga-vāsiṣṭha is earlier than Śankara and possibly even Gauḍapada. When this will have been gradually admitted, the interest in that much neglected work (neglected, at least, by Orientalists) is bound to grow immensely."

Prof. Winternitz (Prague) :—

"The arguments for your date of the Yogavāsiṣṭha are certainly deserving of most earnest consideration...

Your discovery of the source of some of the Minor Upanishads seems to me very important."

Dr. Gualtherus H. Mees (Leyden) :—

"I am most happy that this one of the most profound and exalted books of the world has been taken to hand so thoroughly and in such a scientific manner."

Prof. Jules Bloch (Paris) :—

"Your exposition is as lucid as it is thorough".

Prof. W. Stede (London) :—

"I sincerely appreciate these lofty truths and see in them an invaluable help for the improvement of the affairs of our so called civilised world."

Prof. H. von Glassenapp (Koenigsberg) :—

"Your valuable work (Yogavāsishtha and Its Philosophy) I have read with the greatest interest."

Prof. L. D. Barnett (London) :—

"It (Yogavāsishtha and Its Philosophy) is very interesting."

Prof. Turner (London) :—

"It is indeed most encouraging to find that Indian philosophy (in which India has made perhaps a greater contribution to mankind than in anything else) receives so much cultivation and that too in the most fitting home, the University of Benares. With best wishes for the prosecution of your researches."

Sadhu Kripanand (U.S.A.) :—

“I congratulate you for the splendid and monumental work entitled Yogavāsiṣṭha and Its Philosophy. You have won the sublime approbation of the civilised world, and I do most forcibly review your book in the columns of “The Atlantic Monthly” of Boston and “The Pan-Pacific Progress” of Mass. Only people of your stamp could interpret the sublime works of the Rishis.”

Dr. Keval Motwani (U. S. A.) :—

“Your effort to elucidate the hidden and the subtle philosophy of Yogavāsiṣṭha, to give it a modern garb, and to place it alongside the philosophical thought of today, is highly commendable and deserves gratitude. I am one of those who believe that our ancient philosophers, seers and sages did probe very deeply the mysteries of God, nature and man and their contributions, when relieved of the technical and the philological debris that has accumulated around them as a result of time and arid erudition, will stand shoulder to shoulder with the contributions of the great seers and sages of other countries and secure for them a place in the valhalla of immortality. Every one of our young luminaries who can participate in this work of interpretation places his readers and his countrymen under a deep debt of gratitude. I am greatly struck with the rich variety of material contained in the Yogavāsiṣṭha, and with your laborious research in finding parallel passages in the writings of modern philosophers. May Yogavāsiṣṭha and you receive the recognition which you both richly deserve. I shall look forward with interest to your further works on the subject."

Paul Brunton, Esq. :—

"I have just completed writing an article on your book, and I have done my best to give it a highly favourable commendation to Western readers..... I consider it ought to be brought to wider notice."

Dr. Str. S. Radhakrishnan :—

"He gives an admirable account of the main ideas of the system and his comparisons with western views are as a rule stimulating...The range of the author is as wide as his judgment is measured. Dr. Atreya's work is certain to rank among the dependable English treatises on Samskrit philosophical classics."

Prof. Dr. S. N. Dasgupta (Calcutta) :—

"It is a very elaborate work which testifies to the great industry of the writer in going carefully through the problems of Yogavāsiṣṭha and of arranging them in a modern form...There is no doubt that the writer bestowed immense time and labour in digesting the material of this great work and in attempting to give it a modern shape. He also gave a very lucid and clear exposition of the general position of Yogavāsiṣṭha philosophy"

Dr. Bhagavan Das :—

“Your judicious and excellently classified selection of verses from the vast original, printed under significant headings which briefly but clearly indicate the essential meaning of what follows, will, I feel sure, facilitate the study of this important work and make it more widely known.”

Prof. P. B. Adhikari (Benares) :—

“...Has done here something which is not known to have been attempted hitherto by any writer with such thoroughness.....I cannot but admire the degree of perseverance with which this has been done and the extent of studies undertaken for the purpose.....
.....In the actual presentation of the position.....the author.....evinces a thoroughness which is simply admirable.....He displays, throughout the work, a deep analytic penetration into and a thorough intelligent grasp of the thoughts dispersed in the original work
.....The exposition is on the whole simple and direct.....The concluding chapter is devoted to the discussion of some of the most important problems of the present day philosophy of the West and the place the Yogavāsiṣṭha can occupy in connection with them....Has made out a case for this position on the problems, which is thought-provoking and deserves due consideration from any thinker.”

Principal Gopi Nath Kaviraj (Benares) :—

“I have glanced through the pages of Prof. Atreya’s “Vāsiṣṭha Darśanam.” The arrangement of the Sanskrit text in the way it has been done will prove highly useful, not only to the students of the particular work but also to all who are interested in the history of Indian Philosophy in general.....Certainly a distinct service to the cause of Indian Philosophy.”

Dr. A. B. Dhruva (Ex-Pro : Vice-Chancellor, Benares Hindu University):—

“I commend to every earnest student of Vedanta this book of selections (Vāsiṣṭha-Darśanam) from the Yogavāsiṣṭha which has been carefully and lovingly gathered and classified by my friend Dr. B. L. Atreya.”

Dr. Ganga Nath Jha (in the Leader, Allahabad):—

“The Yogavāsiṣṭha ‘Ramayana’ is one of those works in Sanskrit which deserve most to be read, and yet is the least read by students of Sanskrit literature. It is a work wherein philosophy has been brought down as near as possible to practical life...The Yogavāsiṣṭha embodies within itself the quest of a bewildered soul—that of Rama, the ideal man, faced by practical problems of life—as met by Vasiṣṭha, his guide, philosopher and friend. The book under review, Yogavāsiṣṭha and modern Thought, is an attempt,—and a fairly successful attempt,—at bringing within easy reach of the modern student, just those teachings that allayed the striving heart of Sir Ramachandra.....
.....The work is a comprehensive one; dealing with the entire field of Indian philosophy...It has to be confessed that the outlook of the work is mainly, if not entirely, Vedantic; but that is as much to say that it represents the essence of Indian philosophy. Like all roads leading to Rome, all principal 'Darshanas' lead but to one Goal, the Universal Absolute, which is attainable only by the path of Universal Brotherhood. And herein lies the value of Prof. Atreya's work at the present moment, when in India, and in the world at large, every individual and every community is trying to strangle the other.....The professor deserves to be congratulated on having presented to us the main teachings of the great text in a readable and understandable form."

Prof. V. Subrahmanya Iyer (Mysore) :—

"You have done splendid research work in a very important field of Indian thought. My most hearty congratulations to you."

Prof. V. Subrahmanya Iyer (Mysore) :—

"...The valuable work you have been doing in the field of Indian Philosophy...Your researches in the teachings of Yogavāsishtha are of first rate importance. Your new publication, "Yogavāsishtha & Modern Thought" is another piece of work not less valuable. It also bears the impression of a wide range of study combined with equally critical thinking. The parallels you have quoted reveal not only your extensive knowledge of Western and Eastern thinkers of eminence, but also your great insight."

P. K. Gode (ex-Editor, Review of Philosophy and Religion) in the Oriental Literary Digest:—

“As Sir Radhakrishnan observes in his foreword to the volume under review, Dr. Atreya’s work will help to correct the defect noticeable in the recent historical accounts of Indian philosophy which hardly do justice to the importance of the Yogavāsiṣṭha, as he gives an “admirable account of the main ideas of the system and his comparison with western views are as a rule stimulating”. “The range of the author is as wide as his judgment is measured. Dr. Atreya’s work is certain to rank among the dependable English treatises on Sanskrit philosophical classics”...The above analysis of the subject-matter of the Yogavāsiṣṭha and its synthesis in Part IV of Book II of the present volume reminds us of Deussen’s analysis and synthesis of the magnum opus of Sri Śaṅkarāchārya, viz., the Śāṅkara-Bhāṣya. “Art consists in concealing Art”, and Dr. Atreya’s critical estimate of the philosophical position of the Yogavāsiṣṭha is quite artistic and “measured”, not to say “dependable”, as Sir Radhakrishnan puts it. In fact the last two chapters should be read by all lovers of Indian Philosophy as they contain in a nut-shell everything that a general student of Philosophy is expected to know. It is difficult to do full justice in this brief notice to the varied contents of the Yogavāsiṣṭha or its present analysis and synthesis by Dr. Atreya, who has devoted a major part of his life to these studies. Carlyle said in one of his works : "The ideal is in the actual ; your America is here or nowhere." Dr. Atreya concludes his interpretation of the Yogavāsiṣṭha in a similar strain : "if accepted as a creed of life, the philosophy of Vasiṣṭha will exercise a very healthy influence on life.....it will enable one to live in the 'Kingdom of Heaven' here and now." Or in the words of the Yogavāsiṣṭha quoted by Dr. Atreya, "By repeated study of this work and by constant practice of its philosophy, one gets highest type of intellectual enlightenment, becomes a great and noble citizen and attains liberation in this very life".....Dr. Atreya has done well in creating our interest in the study of this remarkable book and its doctrines and hence deserves our best thanks for this labour of love."

Prof. Ranade (Allahabad) :—

"I am sure the book (Yogavāsiṣṭha and Its philosophy) will be widely appreciated.

Dr. G. Bose (Calcutta) :—

"I found it (Yogavāsiṣṭha and Its philosophy) extremely interesting. You have a remarkable gift of clear exposition and you write from deep appreciation... The probable date of composition of the present work has been very likely correctly fixed by you".

Dr. G. Bose (Calcutta) :—

"Dr. B. L. Atreya, M. A., D. Litt., has been a keen student of Yogavāsiṣṭha Rāmāyaṇa for several years past and to him belongs the credit of drawing the attention of modern scholars to the great worth of this book. The original work is a voluminous one and in preparing an abridged edition Dr. Atreya has done a great service to students of Indology and Indian Philosophy. He has discussed the different aspects of this great work in an extremely lucid manner and has shown wonderful judgment in his selection of material. The work teems with passages which may truly be called literary gems. The philosophy of Vasiṣṭha is the well known Vedantic Monism but the way of approach is something quite original. It has a freshness which is charming. Prof. Atreya's "Vāsiṣṭha-darśanam" will be undoubtedly recognised as the best introduction to "Yogavāsiṣṭha Rāmāyaṇa."

Prof. Hiriyanna (Mysore) :—

"Your account of the work (Yogavāsiṣṭha and Its Philosophy) is very interesting and you have made it clear that it deserves to be closely studied by all students of Indian Philosophy."

Dr. J. N. Sinha (Meerut) :—

"Nothing is more gratifying to me than to find that the Benares Hindu University is doing something to spread the light of Hindu culture. Such an intensive study of a particular aspect of Indian Philosophy and its interpretation in terms of modern concepts of philosophy is the thing most needed in India today. Please accept my hearty congratulations on your achievement."

Prof. Kshitish Chandra Chakravarty (Katmandu, Nepal) :—

“Books full of divine wisdom and surpassing illumination to the soul. I have the highest admiration both for the original Sage and the modern Savant.”

“It (The Philosophy of the Yogavāsiṣṭha) is distinctly the best work on Indian Philosophy, at least from the standpoint of coherent and concentrated—not concise and conventional—expression of its underlying spirit.”

Principal Pramath Nath Tarkabhushana (Benares) :—

“He has rendered a valuable service to the thinkers of Hindu Philosophy.”

Dr. Naga Raja Sarma (in the Hindu, Madras) :—

“Dr. B. L. Atreya has made a laudable effort to push into the focus of modern philosophical thought the truths embodied in Yogavāsiṣṭha.”

Prof. N. G. Damle (Poona) :—

“I have liked your book so much”.

Prof. P. M. Bhambhani (Agra) :—

“It (Yogavāsiṣṭha and Its Philosophy) is an excellent piece of literature and forms a very valuable addition to it”

Prof. Shiva Prasad Bhattacharya (Calcutta) :—

“I congratulate you heartily for the really admirable presentation of the many of the prominent philosophical doctrines of the Yogavāsiṣṭha”.

Janakdhari Prasad, Esq. (Muzaffarpur) :—

“Your book has given me a new insight of life and I have found peace, solace and rest which I could not succeed in getting so long. I therefore owe you a deep gratitude for opening up a new avenue in life. Yogavāsīṣṭha in original was in itself incomprehensible and its hugeness and constant repetitions were baffling. Your book has cleared up everything, and it is now possible for us to fathom its deep sea. Hence I, although a stranger, acknowledge my gratitude. May I make one request? Will you bring out a Hindi edition of the book for the understanding of those who do not know English? It is clear that it was the teaching of Yogavāsīṣṭha which made India so great. We are now fallen because we have quite forgotten it. May this book of yours infuse a new life into the decaying nerves of India? Every step should be taken to popularise this teaching”.

M.K. Acharya, Esq. in The Federated India (Madras):--

“In the present pamphlet (Yogavāsīṣṭha and Modern Thought) is an attempt made to point out “the agreement of the East and the West on fundamental problems.” The author has selected some forty-three of such problems...and under each heading he has given the teachings of Yogavāsīṣṭha along with the conclusions or findings of some great modern writer or journal on the subject. He has drawn from over eighty modern thinkers to corroborate the finding of Yogavāsiṣṭha of old. A recognition of this truth that the greatest minds in every age have come particularly to the same conclusions on the higher problems of life should go towards building a common world-culture which, as Dr. Atreya says, "is the crying need of the times."

P. C. Divanji, Esq. (Jalgaon) :—

"I was very much pleased to find that you were able to lay your hands on the works of a host of leaders of modern thought for the purpose of showing that Western science has now advanced so much as to enable the thinkers of the West to meet those of the East on a common platform to discuss the nature of the Absolute.....Your work is an eloquent testimony of your firm determination to raise the Yogavāsiṣṭha in the eyes of the intelligentia of the world and the possession by you of the inexhaustible fund of energy for the realisation of that ideal.

Prof. Phani Bhushan Adhikari (Benares) :—

"The pains the candidate appears to have so carefully taken in this work of compilation (Vāsiṣṭha Darśanam) and the analytic judgment he has displayed in the selection of relevant texts and in their classification according to topics, evince by themselves the importance of the undertaking. This Sanskrit part of the thesis (Vāsiṣṭha-darśanam) can by itself form a separate and independent book bearing on the philosophical position of Yoga- vāsiṣṭha, which may be utilised with facility by scholars who would like to refer to the original sources on points of interest. The candidate has, in my opinion, done here something which has a value of its own."

Principal Gopinath Kaviraj (Benares) :—

An attempt (Vāsiṣṭha-darśanam) made perhaps for the first time in the history of the work, to sum up the philosophical teachings of the Yogavāsiṣṭha Ramāyāṇa in a consistent and systematic manner. The earlier attempts of Abhinand (900 A. D.) and Mahidhara (1600) and others did not claim to be any more than abridged redactions of the text, but to Professor Atreya belongs the credit of presenting briefly the philosophy of this unique treatise in the language of the original text, with the topics arranged in logical sequence..... It is unfortunate that a work of such monumental grandeur (the Yogavāsiṣṭha), the like of which is hardly to be met with even in Sanskrit literature, should have been allowed to remain obscure and neglected so long. It is hoped that interest in the study of Yogavāsiṣṭha will again be revived and that the present booklet will serve as an humble introduction to this study."

P. C. Divanji, Esq. (Jalgaon) :—

"Your study of the work is very comprehensive and many sided ;.....I have a profound regard for your intelligence, patience and industry."

Sri. Hanuman Prasad Poddar (Editor, Kalyāna, Gorakhpur):—

“I am very grateful to you for your valuable gift of the “Yogavāsīṣṭha aur uske Siddhānta”.....Your contribution to the cultural history of India is remarkable. My very hearty congratulations to you.”

B. Subba Rao, Esq. (S. Kanara):—

“It (Yogavāsīṣṭha and Its Philosophy) is a book containing highly inspiring selected thoughts which every one should ponder over in everyday life.”

R.V. Subrahmanyam, Esq. (Tirupattur):—

“I congratulate you on your splendid and original contribution on Yogavāsīṣṭha—a rare Sanskrit work and not handled by any scholar upto date. It is a piece of original research and you have thrown much light on what is altogether a closed book to many modern students of philosophy and religion”.

Pt. Ram Narayan Misra (Benares):—

“Your attempt to bring the East and the West together is laudable. The book (Yogavāsīṣṭha and Modern Thought) is inspiring”.

Swami Narayananda (Calcutta):—

“No doubt, you have taken much pain in bringing out this present volume of the Philosophy of the Yogavāsīṣṭha in an adequate and efficient form, as to suit the taste of the modern man successfully. Surely it is the blessing of the Lord that has enabled you, as you put it, to deal with the work skilfully. The whole world is dying for want of peace. Real peace lies in religion and religion is realization. Nothing short of that. India has to learn much from the West on materialism and the West has to learn much from the East on spiritualism. As such we want men like you to bring forth from every nook and corner of Hinduism all hidden treasures and broadcast them all over the world for the welfare of the whole humanity. I sincerely wish your earnest work will meet with full success and may He out of His infinite love and mercy give you strength of mind and character to carry on further researches in the spiritual realm.

“The language and the style of the whole work are simple, avoiding as far as possible high and confusing philosophical terms and words. As such, any ordinary person with limited philosophical knowledge can go through the work easily. This is a great achievement towards popularising the Yogavāsiṣṭha”.

Swami Bhumananda (Kalipur Ashram, Kamakhya, Kamrup, Assam) :—

“When I was staying at Chitrakut at the house of a Marwari gentleman of Calcutta, Mr. Narayan Das Bajoria, I found a book with him written by a Professor of your University on Yogavāsiṣṭha. On reading this detailed review of the work, I was surprised very much. I am almost an advocate of Yogavāsiṣṭha, which I have been studying for the last thirty years. I had entertained the belief, with a slight pride too, that no one had studied so critically the book as myself. I have also written down a vast amount of notes on the subject. But I found that the matters I had treated of, and the manner in which this has been done, were dealt with by the writer exactly in the same manner. The texts of the Upaniṣads which I had noted down long ago are also found to have been quoted by the author. The theme of Kalidasa's Meghadūta was thought by me to be his own creation. But on reading Yogavāsiṣṭha, I found subsequently that the same matter is also mentioned in this work. I had once thought of writing an article on the subject. "Influence of Vyasa and Valmiki on Kalidasa" and had also collected materials for the purpose. The reference to Meghadūta is also one among the collection by the author...I was very eager to get acquainted with him, but that could not happen somehow". (Quoted and translated by Prof. P. B. Adhikari from a Bengali letter addressed to him).

Swami Bhumanand (Kamakhyā) :—

"I am highly pleased or rather glad to get your publications on Yogavāsiṣṭha. You are the first man I see who had read the book or rather studied it so carefully and critically. During my lifetime, I have met many highly educated men and had occasions to talk with them on our religious and philosophical books, but have seen none who read Yogavāsiṣṭha thoroughly...I am now eager to see you...Your expressions are clear and exposition marvellous, and style simple”.

Dinshaw S. Paowalla, Esq. (Hongkong, China) :—

“I have just finished reading your book: The Philosophy of the Yogavāsiṣṭha. It is really a good book. I read it with great delight and interest. You have done a great service to Vasiṣṭha in writing this book. It brings Vasiṣṭha in the light again after many centuries. Perhaps it might have been destined for you to write on Vasiṣṭha’s Philosophy in such a nice and neat form.”

Rohini Prasad Pant (Gyaneswar, Nepal) :—

The Philosophy of the Yogavāsiṣṭha, an ever-lasting service to the country. Our Hindu philosophy will be more clearly interpreted thereby and as such will gain still higher reputation in the world. I thank you much for your keen interest towards the welfare of the English-knowing people who cannot well-understand Sanskrit. I am sure it will help the truth-seeking to a great extent and at the same time may lead others also to a right path”.

B. Subba Rao, Esq. (Mudbidri) :—

“I am glad to see that the book (Yogavāsiṣṭha aur uske Siddhānta) has been neatly printed and is really charming to see; the paper used and the cover also being satisfactory, so much so that I can say that it is just like our Adyar Theosophical Publications, and therefore the price is not high.”

Dr. Hari Ram Verma (Rampur, Saharanpur) :—

“I cannot but praise you for the nice arrangement of the verses from Yogavāsishtha with quotations from modern and contemporary writers which appear as if they are translations of the very verses from the book, the Yogavāsishtha...A good deal of perseverance and immense time and labour must have been bestowed by you before it was given this shape.....I cannot but admire you for the splendid discovery you have made in this line. I consider it a rare privilege that I got acquainted with such a high personality as that of yours, which shines in the literary and philosophical firmament as a bright star, guiding the West and the East towards the Vedantic doctrine. I wish to see more works of this type.”

Swami Sivananda (Rishikesh) :—

“Immortal Self, Your valuable book “Yogavāsishtha—” This is a splendid research work. It is a valuable companion for a student of Vedanta. The exposition is lucid. Thy own Self, Sivānanda.”

Sri Hanuman Prasad Poddar (Editor, Kalyana, Gorakhpur) :—

“Your noble work is bound to meet appreciation at every quarter which it so nobly deserves. As I have once before said, your contribution for the cause of Yogavāsishtha will create a landmark in the history of Indian philosophy and your name will go down in history as an upholder of a cause which forms really the corner stone of Hindu philosophy and Hindu culture. You are heartily to be congratulated for your intense passion for this most monumental but most neglected piece of spiritual encyclopedia."

K. K. Murti. Esq. :—

"I feel quite incompetent to express my proud feelings of high respect for "Yogavāsiṣṭha" as presented by you with comparative modern views on every problem of life, besides the critical, analytical and synthetical survey, especially the last and the last but one chapters which I read with particular attention.....Only one reading has filled me with boundless delight, joy and peace of mind...you have solved my "why" of the problems of life. I am very much indebted to you for the enlightenment on the subject which is the dearest to me. I exerss my gratefulness to you. I must go through the book more than a thousand times."

Seth Narayan Das Bajoria (Calcutta) :—

"I saw your first book (Yogavāsiṣṭha aur uske Siddhānta) with Panditji (Pt. Madan Mohan Malaviya) and took the same on loan...You have indeed rendered a signal service to the cause of Indian philosophy by your very laborious and enthusiastic study of the great book of our Rishis. With the loss of our freedom, even our culture and achievement in the realm of thought have been forgotten. Only in recent years learned philosophers like Sir Radhakrishnan and yourself have brought our ancient philosophy to the notice of the modern scholars. I hope to go through all your books slowly, and I think, with much benefit to the advancement of my knowledge. My esteemed friend Seth Jugal Kishore Ji Birla is very much interested in Yogavāsiṣṭha...He will be immensely pleased, when I shall tell him, if he does not already know, the great service you have done to bring the work within the knowledge of modern philosophers.

Prof. Shyama Charan (Agra):—

“I hope you will not mind a stranger writing to you like this. The other day...I came across your book “The Philosophy of the Yogavāsiṣṭha”. Curious, how providence works. I have been thinking of a book like this for a long time—and now it is in my hands. All the Philosophies, Mysticisms, Occultisms and Yogas are there—well classified and presented in an orderly sequence”.

Prof. Kshitish Chandra Chakravarty (Katmandu):—

The Yogavāsiṣṭha Mahārāmāyaṇa is by far the greatest and biggest ancient Indian work on the monistic philosophy of the Vedānta.....Prof. Atreya has, in a finely analytical and scientifically accurate manner, here, laid bare the truths of the highest human philosophy for the modern English-knowing reader, who must admire the true spirit of research that permeates his whole work. The Book (The Philosophy of the Yogavāsiṣṭha), a monument of devoted and learned industry is the best reliable and thoroughgoing English treatise, I have yet seen, in the realm of Indian Idealistic interpretation of the Philosophy of Religion. It opened up before my wondering gaze a new and pleasant vista uniting the Eastern and Western modes of approach to the Truth of life; and.....I have every reason to congratulate the modern savant on his splendid success and service done to the cause of the revival of ancient Indian Learning and Wisdom at this proper hour."

The Leader (Allahabad) :—

"The author has really rendered valuable service by presenting in a simple, yet scientific way (Yogavāsiṣṭha and Its Philosophy) the essence of a philosophical thought as contained in the extensive and voluminous work known as Yogavāsiṣṭha.

The Leader (Allahabad) :—

"This (The Philosophy of the Yogavāsiṣṭha) is a comparative, critical and synthetic survey of the philosophical ideas of Vasiṣṭha as presented in the Yogavāsiṣṭha Mahārāmāyaṇa.....The author has shown by his original researches that the Yogavāsiṣṭha existed before the time of Shankara and Gauḍapada...The author must be congratulated on his able presentation of the details of Vasiṣṭha's philosophy in a systematic and coherent manner.....He has not only pointed out similarities in the thoughts of other thinkers, ancient and modern, Indian and Western, but also has brilliantly summed up the salient features of this philosophy

There is a chapter at the end dealing with the critical estimate of the philosophical position of Vāsiṣṭha..... Every library worth the name ought to have a copy of this book."

The Hindu (Madras) :—

"Dr. Atreya.....is to be congratulated on making available to the English knowing reader so comprehensive an account of a work which has hardly received from modern scholars the attention that it deserves..... The volume is divided into two main sections. The first of them deals with general points touching the work, like its date and place in the philosophical literature of India; and the second, which is by far the bigger, is devoted entirely to an elucidation of its teaching...Dr. Atreya, with his intimate knowledge of the work, has succeeded in giving us a full and connected account of it. He writes in a simple and interesting manner; and his exposition is interspersed throughout with free renderings into English of passages from the original. These passages are printed in Deva Nagari characters at the foot of the page for ready reference. Another noteworthy feature of the exposition is the comparison he now and then institutes between Vasistha's teachings and the views of modern thinkers. The printing and the get-up of the book are excellent."

The Theosophy in India (Benares) :—

"The Yogavāsiṣṭha is a very important book, but its philosophy is somewhat difficult, so that writers on Indian philosophy give it scant attention. Dr. Atreya has made a special study of it and tries to make it popular by placing the fruits of his labour in easy manuals before the public. The author's researches on this book have necessitated modification of certain opinions held by western Orientalists, and this is high praise of his work.....All the works of this writer are written in a popular style...He is doing a great service to the country by making the philosophy of the Yogavāsiṣṭha available to the public in simple and short form. We would recommend all the books of this writer on Yogavāsiṣṭha to our readers."

The Vaitarani (Cuttack) :—

It (Yogavāsiṣṭha and Its Philosophy) is an excellent specimen of lucid exposition.....Such contributions, it is hoped, will soon be classed according to Ruskin among the books for all times."

The Hindustan Times (Delhi) :—

"Yogavāsiṣṭha is a very important field of Indian metaphysics, and any scientific research in it naturally requires a good deal of sustained effort.....Dr. Atreya has treated his subject in the true spirit of a scholar.

The Madras Mail (Madras) :—

"Dr. Atreya...is deservedly proud that he has been the first to give the rightful place that that work (the Yogavāsiṣṭha) deserves...The range of the author's knowledge is wide and his judgments are tendentious..

The book (Yogavāsiṣṭha and Modern Thought) has the merit of making comparison between Eastern and Western philosophy and this work is bound to rank as a first rate work in English among other philosophical classics.”

The Parasakti Magazine (Bangalore):—

“Dr. B. L. Atreya has won for himself an undying reputation for making a most brilliant contribution satisfying all canons of true scientific spirit and modern criticism, upon a very important but least known section of Indian Philosophical and Religious literature “Yoga Vāsiṣṭha” by presenting in an illuminating manner the essence of the reputed system of thought in a series of books of which three are already published and the other two are in preparation. A careful perusal of its Contents and the Bibliography reveals the author’s phenomenal industry and unflagging enthusiasm to dispel from the reader’s mind the erroneous belief that “the East is East and the West is West and never the twain shall meet” and seeks to impress unequivocally the cardinal Principle that in the world’s great plan, East and West, past or present, nay future too, do not differ fundamentally in their outlook and visualisation of a common World Culture towards which some of the international movements are aiming.....I have no hesitation in saying that this book (Yogavāsiṣṭha and Modern Thought) and indeed all his books deserve to be classed according to Ruskin as “the Books for all Times.” ”

The Federated India (Madras) :—

“A most valuable contribution (Yogavāsīṣṭha and Its Philosophy) to a study of ancient Indian philosophical systems—very valuable both to the general study of Indian thought, and to the specialist interested in the evolution of the Advaita system.”

The United India and Indian States (Delhi) :—

“The writer claims, and with considerable justification, that he has been the first to draw the attention of modern scholars to the unique position of Yogavāsīṣṭha which has made a unique and important contribution not only to Indian wisdom, but to the thought of the world as well.”

The Young Builder (Karachi) :—“An excellent introduction (Yogavāsīṣṭha and Its Philosophy) to the study of Yogavāsīṣṭha.”

“हमको ‘योगवासिष्ठ एण्ड मौडर्न थॉट’ नामकी किताब पढ़कर बड़ा सन्तोष और आनन्द हुआ और यह भरोसा हो गया है कि हिन्दू युनिवर्सिटी द्वारा हिन्दूधर्मका रक्षण और हिन्दू जातिका कल्याण अवश्य होगा !.....सम्पादकजीके उपकारके उपलक्षमें उनके चरणोंकी भेंट हम मु० १००१) भेजते हैं । उनके अमूल्य ग्रन्थकी किञ्चित् मात्र यह भेंट बराबर नहीं है, किन्तु अंग्रेजी पढ़े लिखोंका इस ओर ध्यान आकर्षित करनेमें अगर सहायता दे सके तो हम अपना कर्तव्य पूरा हुआ समझेंगे ।”

श्री चिष्णुराम गिरिधरलाल सनावद्या (नीमाड़) :—

“श्रीवासिष्ठदर्शनसार” को मैंने बड़े ही ध्यानपूर्वक आद्योपान्त पढ़ा । आपने गागरमें सागर समानेका अच्छा प्रशंसनीय प्रयत्न किया है । पुस्तककी छपाई सफाई तो बहुतही उत्तम है । आपकी अनुवादिक भाषा बड़ी सरल एवं सुबोध है.....“योगवासिष्ठ” जैसे संस्कृत साहित्यके सर्वोत्तम अध्यात्म ग्रन्थका गूढ़-रहस्य आपने १५० श्लोकोंमें सफलतापूर्वक समझानेका प्रयास किया, इस कठिन प्रयासके हेतु आप धन्यवादके पात्र

हैं । भुझे विश्वास है कि यह पुस्तिका अध्यात्म विषय प्रेमियोंको अधिक रुचिकर होगी ।”

प्रताप (कानपुर) :-

“श्री योगवासिष्ठ-महारामायण संस्कृत साहित्यमें संसारका सर्वोत्कृष्ट अध्यात्म ग्रन्थ है । यह ग्रन्थ बहुत बृहद् है । इसमें ३२००० श्लोक हैं ।.... प्रस्तुत पुस्तिकाके संग्रहकर्ताने इसी बृहद् अध्यात्म ग्रन्थके २५०० चुने हुए श्लोकोंको लेकर ‘वासिष्ठदर्शन’ नामक एक क्रमबद्ध संग्रह तैयार किया है । यह पुस्तिका (वासिष्ठदर्शनसार) हिन्दी अनुवाद सहित उसी संग्रहका १५० श्लोकोंमें सार है । विद्वान् संग्रहकर्ताने कोशिश की है कि इतने ही श्लोकोंमें योगवासिष्ठके सारे सिद्धान्त आ जायें । अनुवादकी भाषा बहुत सरल और स्पष्ट है । इस छोटी पुस्तिकाके पढ़नेसे भी योगवासिष्ठका निचोड़ सर्वसाधारणके सामने आ जायगा । पुस्तिकाकी छपाई सफाई भी अच्छी है ।”

सनातनधर्म (काशी) :-

“हाल हीमें काशी हिन्दू विश्वविद्यालयके दर्शनाध्यापक डॉ० भीखनलाल आत्रेय, एम० ए०, डी० लिट्०, ने श्री योगवासिष्ठपर विशेष चिन्तन और मनन करके हिन्दी भाषा-भाषियोंके लिये श्री योगवासिष्ठके ३२००० श्लोकोंका सार १५० श्लोकोंमें निकालकर रख दिया है । यह प्रयास सचमुच ही गागरमें सागर रखनेका है ।.....आशा करते हैं कि हिन्दी जाननेवाले इस श्री योगवासिष्ठदर्शनसारका उचित आदर और स्वागत करेंगे । प्रत्येक धार्मिक पुरुष और स्त्रीके लिये यह अत्यन्त अमूल्य निधि है ।”

श्री हनुमान प्रसाद पोद्दार (सम्पादक, कल्याण, गोरखपुर) :-

“योगवासिष्ठको प्रकाशमें लाकर तथा उसके दार्शनिक उच्च सिद्धान्तोंको जनताके सन्मुख रखकर, विशेषतः विदेशी विद्वानोंकी आँखें खोलकर, आपने भारतीय गौरव और आदर्शका मुख उज्ज्वल किया है। वस्तुतः इस दिशामें यदि आप प्रयत्नशील नहीं होते तो अभी बहुत दिनों तक यह ग्रन्थरत्न अन्धकारमें ही पड़ा रहता तथा भारतवर्ष और बाहरके लोग इसके विषयमें सर्वथा अनभिज्ञ होते। भारतीय संस्कृतिके इतिहासको गौरव प्रदान कर आप कोटि कोटि हृदयोंके धन्यवादके पात्र हैं।”

नारायण स्वामी (सुजानगढ़) :—

आपकी पुस्तक निरन्तर देख रहा हूँ। दो बार देख चुका हूँ, किन्तु जब कभी भी इसको उठाता हूँ तो कोई न कोई नवीन आदेश प्राप्त हो जाता है। इस अमृत-कलशको छोड़नेकी जी नहीं चाहता..... स्वामी रामतीर्थने मुजफ्फरनगरके ऑन्नेबिल लाला निहाल चन्दसे कहा था कि योगवासिष्ठका एक धुरन्धर ज्ञाता इसी जिलेमें होगा। यह बात उन्हींने किशनगढ़के एक विद्यार्थीसे भी कही थी। वह विद्यार्थी आज ६०-६५ वर्षका है एवं जोधपुरमें प्रसिद्ध सर्जन है। उसने स्वामी रामतीर्थकी वाणीका पात्र मुझे घोषित कर दिया था किन्तु उसका भ्रम दूर हटानेको मैंने आज उसे पत्र लिख कर असली ऋषिका ‘जुडा’ का पता लिख दिया है।”

Phulchand Murarka, Esq., (Tulsihatta, Maldah) :—

“आप की हिन्दी “योगवासिष्ठ और उसके सिद्धान्त” नामक पुस्तक पढ़ रहा हूँ। पुस्तक क्या है मानो ‘ज्ञान रूपी समुद्र का आनन्द रूपी रत्न’ है। ऐसे अमूल्य रत्न को संसार के सामने रख कर आपने मानव मात्र का जो उपकार किया है उसका वर्णन करने में मैं असमर्थ हूँ। धन्य हैं आप। विश्व मानव की मुक्ति के लिये इस अमूल्य ग्रंथ के जोड़ की दूसरी कोई पुस्तक नहीं है”।

Guru Narayan Shorawala, Esq., (Etawah) :—

“आपने अपना बनाया हुआ योगवासिष्ठ का टीका (योगवासिष्ठ और उसके सिद्धान्त) देकर मुझे दीवाना बना दिया। अब इस दास की यह

हालत है :—“जाहिरमें गो कि बैठा लोगों के दरम्यां हूँ । पर यह खबर नहीं है, मैं कौन हूँ और कहां हूँ” । इन्हीं कारणों से मैं आपको अपना गुरु स्वीकार करता हूँ क्योंकि आपने मेरे साथ वह उपकार किया है जो मुझको शेष का मुख मिलने पर भी उस उपकार का बदला नहीं दिया जा सकता; ‘ज्ञान के अञ्जन की आंखों में सलाई फेर दी । कौन दे सकता है निर्भय गुरु कृपा का बदला’ । मैंने वेदान्त के निम्न लिखित ग्रंथ पढ़े हैं— बल्कि बहुत से ग्रन्थ और भी पढ़े हैं जिनका नाम इस समय याद नहीं पड़ता और लाइब्रेरी की जो मेरी सूची है - जिसमें ५००० के करीब पुस्तकें हैं— सो इतनी बड़ी सूची को देख कर जो वेदान्त के ग्रन्थ पढ़े गये हैं उनके नाम लिखना मैं जरूरी नहीं समझता :—दशों बड़े उपनिषद, १०८ छोटे उपनिषद, गीतायें—जो कि अनेक तरह की भगवद्गीता को छोड़कर छपी हैं वे सब, श्रीमद्भगवद्गीता के सब भाष्य जो आज तक भाषाटीका सहित छपे हैं जैसे शाङ्कर भाष्य, रामानुज भाष्य, मधूसूदन भाष्य, स्वामी विद्वानन्द का भाष्य, नारायणस्वामी का भाष्य, ज्ञानेश्वरी भाष्य इत्यादि, ब्रह्मसूत्र शाङ्कर भाष्य, ब्रह्मसूत्र प्रभुदयाल कृत रामानुजभाष्य, पञ्चदशी, वृत्तिप्रभाकर व विचारसागर स्वामी निश्चलदास कृत, तत्त्वानुसन्धान, विचार दीपक, विचार पर स्वामी ब्रह्मनाथ की लिखी पुस्तक, योगवासिष्ठ के ६ प्रकरण—बम्बई छापा व नवलकिशोर छापा केवल भाषामें, प्रश्नोत्तरी बाबा नगीनासिंह के सब उर्दू के ग्रन्थ, स्वामी रामतीर्थके सब ग्रन्थ, स्वामी निर्भयानन्द के सब ग्रन्थ, इनके अलावा बहुत से ग्रन्थ हिन्दी उर्दू में—परन्तु न मालूम अब तक मुझे इतना अनुभव क्यों नहीं हुआ था जो आपके योगवासिष्ठ भाष्य के पढ़ने से एकदम हो गया । अब तो यही हालत है—“या निशा सर्वभूतानां तस्यां जागर्ति संयमी । यस्यां जागृति भूतानि सा निशा पश्यतो मुनेः” । ये तमाम बातें हृदय खोल कर आपके सामने इस कारण रखनी पड़ीं कि मैं आपको अपना गुरु मान चुका हूँ और पूर्ण आशा ही नहीं वरन दृढ़ विश्वास है कि आप मुझको अपने शिष्यों में स्वीकार करेंगे” ।

The Hindustan (New Delhi) :—

लेखल ने दशनशास्त्र सम्बन्धी पुस्तकें अंग्रेजी और संस्कृत में कोई डेढ़ दर्जन लिखी हैं, लेकिन हिन्दी में लिखने का यह पहिला ही प्रयास है और उसमें उन्हें पूरी सफलता प्राप्त हुई है। दर्शन सरीखे रुखे विषय को भी उन्होंने इतना सरस बना दिया है कि बालक कथा कहानी को तरह उसे पढ़ सकता है।दर्शनशास्त्र के प्रेमियों के लिये पुस्तक बहुत कामकी है। संस्कृत ज्ञान रहित व्यक्ति भी इसके स्वाध्याय से योगवासिष्ठ के सिद्धान्तों का पूरा परिचय प्राप्त कर सकता है। श्री आत्रेयजी ने यह पुस्तक लिखकर हिन्दी भाषी जनता पर एक उपकार कर उसके गौरव की भी वृद्धि की है।

संन्यासी श्रीरामआश्रम आतुर (मवाना, मेरठ)

हिन्दू विश्वविद्यालयके दर्शनाध्यापक श्रीमान् प्रोफेसर पं० भीखनलाल जी, एम०ए०, डी०लिट्०, ने संस्कृत साहित्यमें प्रसिद्ध योगवासिष्ठ नामक महान् वेदान्तग्रन्थका एक “योगवाष्ठी और उसके सिद्धान्त” नामसे सारभूत (संक्षिप्त) ग्रन्थ लिखा है। वास्तवमें प्रोफेसर साहबके इस बड़े उद्योगने गागरमें सागर भरनेका काम किया है। विषयोंका चुनाव इस प्रशंसनीय ढँगसे किया है कि जिसने इस छोटी सी पुस्तक द्वारा उस महान् ग्रन्थको हस्तामलकवत् बना दिया है। इस ग्रन्थ को आद्योपान्त पढ़कर मैं इस परिणाम पर पहुँचा हूँ कि जिस योगवासिष्ठ ग्रन्थ रूपी हीरेका, बहुत काल तक अज्ञान गर्तमें पड़े रहनेके कारण मैल चढ़ जानेसे, असली रूप धुँधला गया था उसको नवीन विचार रूपी शान पर चढ़ाकर चमकदार ज्ञान हीरा बना दिया है। आपने केवल योगवासिष्ठ का संक्षेप मात्र लिखकर ही लोकोपकार नहीं किया, अपि तु उन २ अकाट्य प्रमाणों द्वारा और अनथक परिश्रम तथा अन्वेषण द्वारा जो उक्तग्रन्थ की ऐतिहासिक प्राचीनता सिद्ध की है इसके लिये भी संस्कृत साहित्य तथा हिन्दू जाति आपकी चिरऋणी रहेगी।
